THE STONE CHURCH AT HARROLD'S 1829-1892

In the last newsletter we gave a brief history and description of the early log school and church in Harrold Settlement. The picture above is the stone church, dedicated in 1830, very near the site of the old church. By now it was called Zion's Church. (History of Old Zion Church, by William A. Zundel, 1922.) Both the Lutherans and the Reformed people built the church and both used the building as their church home.

The church was a tall, almost square building with a gallery on three sides. The northeast side was the "Old Men's Corner" while the "Old Women's Corner" was on the northwest. The younger women, girls, and children were under the south gallery and the middle-aged men and boys sat overhead.

A large rectangular alter, painted white, was in the north central part, with chairs for the preachers and pulpit. The pulpit was a high wineglass pattern with steps leading up to the platform. The two denominations were always separate, but very similar in nature. Each denomination was free to choose its own pastor and officers and change them when necessary. The officers of both congregations were to examine, every year, the state of the common funds in the hands of the "manager," and pass upon the receipts and bills for expenses. The officers of both congregations were to unite in choosing a schoolmaster. Children were baptized by either pastor. The whole settlement attended funerals and all were buried in the same "God's Acre," with almost identical burial service.

This arrangement lasted until about 1883-84, when the Lutherans built a new brick building nearby. Their name evolved to the Harrold Zion Lutheran Church. This building is presently the Center for Baltzer Meyer Historical Society. The Reformed congregation were to use the stone church until 1892, when they also started a new building. The stone church, which now belonged entirely to the Reformed congregation, was torn down and the 1829 cornerstone was incorporated into the new building along with the one of 1892. It is interesting to note that church was held in the No. 8 school until the new church was complete.

-- BALTZER MEYER HISTORICAL SOCIETY -- THE TWIN LAKES ARTS AND HERITAGE FESTIVAL

The Twin Lakes Arts and Heritage Festival held on July 1 through 4 proved to be a good display area for the Baltzer Meyer Historical Society. A new display board given by Margaret Aldridge showed off the 8 x 10 photographs of old-time Greensburg prepared by Glenn Smeltzer. Also shown were prints from our web site prepared by Julia Gormley.

Volunteers manned the booth on the Heritage Trail and everyone commented on the number of interested folk who stopped and asked questions about our Society. Those volunteers were Glenn Smeltzer, Dorothy Hart, Harriet Sparks, Don and Nancy Baker, Gail Andrews, Janet Stohl, Isabel Elder, Peggy Anthony, Marlene Tiberio, Joe Emerick, Sally Sanderbeck, Bob Baker and Linda Soles.

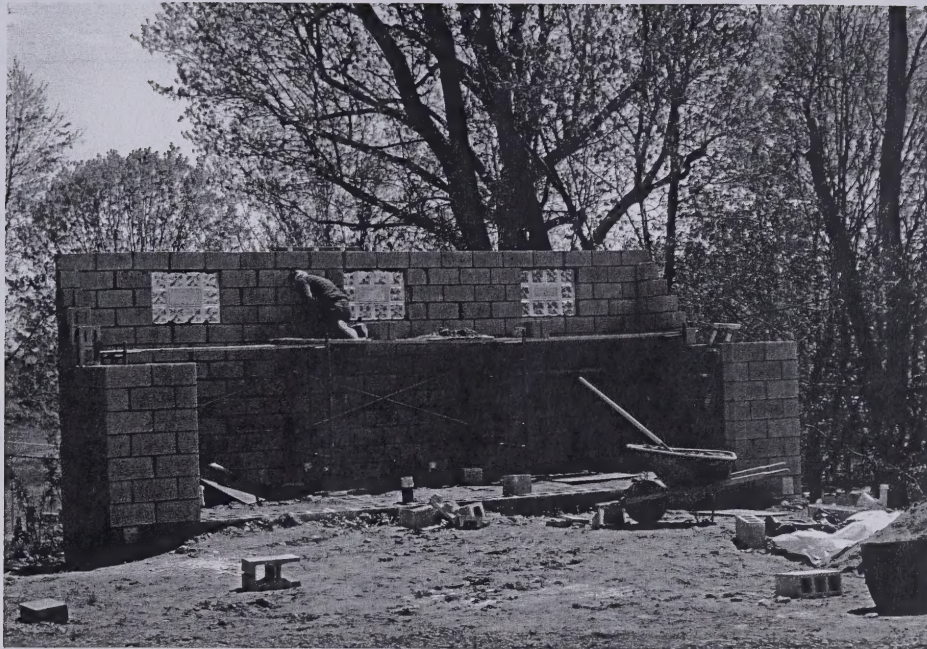

BILLY KASHIN EARNS EAGLE AWARD AT BMHS

Billy Kashin of Boy Scout Troop 465 needed a special project to satisfy his Eagle Scout requirements. He wanted something where he would be in charge of planning, organizing, and directing the activities of a team of workers to a successful conclusion. He found a perfect match at the Baltzer Meyer Historical Society Center.

The society had recently installed a new furnace in a large room adjacent to its Harrold Hall meeting room. Safety recommendations stipulate that a furnace in a large room be enclosed, and the Society was looking for a way to get this done.

Billy planned the project, then enlisted the help of his father, friends Jon Miller and Mike Ralph, and Scouts Austin Anderson, Matt McCoy, Steve Hopkins, and Mark Durigan to help him complete the job. BMHS now has a good looking and functional surround to our furnace. We thank Billy and his helpers for this project.

Note: See our webpage for article and pictures prepared by Julia Gormley

BATHROOMS AT THE SCHOOLHOUSE

Rest rooms at No. 8 school are in progress. We hope they will be completed by the end of August. We will have a full report next time.

EARLY SETTLERS IN HEMPFIELD TOWNSHIP

George Dallas Albert in his History of Westmoreland County provided a list of early settlers of Hempfield Township. They were nearly all Germans, mostly from the eastern and southern counties, with some direct from the fatherland, and all of them of the Lutheran or Reformed faith in religion. Albert named John Harrold, the Brinigs, Froelichs, Henrys, Rughs, Allemans, Drums, Ottermans, Marchands (from Switzerland), Benders (now Painters), Kunkels, Longs, Gangweres, Detars, Rosensteels, Millers, Snyders, Turneys, Fritchmans, Muhlisens, Klingensmiths, Myers, Steinmetz, Strohs, Altmans, Thomases, Barnharts, Mechlins, Haines, Buergers, Urics, Trubys, Rohrs, Williamses, Huffnagles, Ehrenfriedts, Alshouses, Hubers, Kemps, Reamers, Keppels, Alwines, Kiehls, Smiths, Silvis, Kemerers, Kifers, Shrums, Whiteheads, Saams, Byerlys, Eisamans, Clines, Walthours, Baughmans, Detmars, Wageles, Corts, Grosses, Seanors and others.

GERMAN CHURCH RECORDS

From an article by Frances Davis McTeer titled What to Expect from Church Records, published by Family Trails, Michigan Department of Education, Vol. 4 No. 2.

‘The inclusion of sponsors (god-parents) [in a baptismal record] provides a special genealogical bonus for the searcher in early German Lutheran records. Almost without exception these sponsors were grandparents, uncles or aunts of the infant baptised. The opportunity is obvious: by careful collection, comparison and correlation among the sponsors of all children of a given couple, then for all children sponsored by that couple, and finally for siblings of these sponsored children, it is possible from baptismal records alone (when no other data is available) to construct provisionally the outline of a three generation family group with marriage partners for most of the middle generation.’”

Dear Lucy,

I have enclosed the attendance list and your photo of the '97 Valentine reunion. It just didn't seem possible that I could get 40 names on the back of your photo. Of the 49 persons that attended, two were using their cameras, and the other seven had left the reunion before the photos were taken.

I am going to try to scan a reunion photo into the computer. Should I succeed and get an enlarged photo, then I hopefully will have enough area to identify each person. If I am successful, I will send you a copy.

Many thanks for the reunion photo copies that you sent, and also for the Allen Co. history items and certificates.

I recently visited the cemetery in Degraff and following your directions I was able to locate the grave of Oliver.

I hope your trip to PA proved to be fruitful.

Sincerely,

Leah Valentine

MINUTES OF THE VALENTINE REUNION - AUG. 3, 1997

The annual Valentine reunion was held Aug 3rd, 1997 at the CENTER in Plattsville, Ohio. Tables were set with white table cloths and red placemats. Small cups of after dinner mints were at each setting.

Forty-nine (49) persons were registered for this 76th reunion. Eight ancestors were represented as follows:

George Valentine and Susannah Deeter;
John Valentine and Nancy Bailey;
Sarah Valentine and Wm. Lucas;
Oliver Valentine and Philena McCroskey;
Rachel Valentine and Terry Esterbrook;
William C Valentine and Sarah Fergus;
Wm. Valentine and Joanna Crain.

During the registration period relatives visited with relatives and spent time viewing the many restored photos of past ancestors. Also during this period, tickets for a 50/50 drawing could be purchased.

With bowed heads and the circle of hands, the Lord's prayer recited in unison was followed by an ample dinner served in the covered dish style buffet.

After the dinner hour and the clearing of tables, an interesting game entitled "Find your twin" was performed. The game involved the relatives contacting each other to search for like traits (e.g. blue eyes, freckles, false teeth etc.). Three winners scored the most traits between the relatives.

Door prizes were awarded to persons wearing name tags that displayed a red star. The winner of the 50/50 pot was Sally (Valentine) Yeager.

The business meeting was then called to order by Pres. Sherry Monnier.

Notes

Members of Keller's Church in Bedminster, Pa. I believe many of Christopher's children were born and baptised at the Keller Church, the other's were born in Ohio. Most of them remained close to the family homestead that Christopher's father, (Henry) Heinrich, had started back shortly after they came to America in 1738.

Christopher was commissioned an ensign in 1776, and his company was assigned to the "Flying Camp" and participated in the disastrous campaign on Long Island, where so many Bucks countians lost their lives or became prisoners in the "floating hells" in New York harbor.

Christopher's will filed Buck's Co., Haycock Twp., Pa. Aug 20, 1820.. Vol s , pg 413

Captain Chambers is well and favorably known in Bucks county, and is connected with many of the local institutions. He and his family are members of the Episcopal church. He is a member of Newtown Lodge, No. 427, F. and A. M., and of the Philadelphia Commandery of the Loyal Legion, and also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, Post No. 427, Newtown, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Chambers dates his ancestry on his father's side from William Chalmers, as the name was then spelled, who was born and lived in Perth, Scotland. His son Alexander Chambers, came to Philadelphia when a lad, and married Ann Fox, of that city, in 1746. He died in London, England, and is buried in St. Andrew's churchyard in that city. John Chambers, son of Alexander and Ann (Fox) Chambers, was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, about 1746, and married there in 1770 Deborah Hall; he died April 3, 1776. George Chambers, son of John and Deborah Hall Chambers, was born in Philadelphia, August, 1774, and died June 7, 1814; he married Mary Preston, August 1, 1796, and had six children. After the death of George Chambers his widow married Mr. Richard Harris, of England, and in 1827 moved from Philadelphia to Newtown township, where they purchased a farm of one hundred acres. Mrs. Harris died in 1864.

Alexander Chambers, the father of the subject of this sketch, son of George and Mary Preston Chambers, was born in Philadelphia, June 4, 1808. On March 25, 1835, he married Frances Wayne, daughter of Caleb Parry and Mary Stokes Wayne. Caleb Parry Wayne was great-grandson of Captain Anthony Wayne, and a cousin of General Anthony Wayne, of Revolutionary fame, also grandson of Captain David Parry, and a nephew of Colonel Caleb Parry, who fell in the battle of Long Island in 1776. They had two sons, Thomas P. and Frances Wayne Chambers. Mr. Chambers was engaged in the mercantile business in Philadelphia until 1841, when with his family he moved to Newtown and purchased the farm of his mother, and became a prominent and active man in this community. He and his family attended the Protestant Episcopal Church at Newtown, where he was a vestryman until his death.

Alexander Chambers, son of Thomas P. and Hannah H. (Barnsley) Chambers, was born in Newtown, October 20, 1865. He was educated at the schools of Newtown, at Swarthmore College and Lehigh University, but failing health prevented his graduation from the latter institution in the class of 1887. He was engaged in the oil business with the Tidewater Oil Company of New York, until 1894, when he purchased the Agricultural Machine Works at Newtown, which he operated for several years in connection with the manufacture and sale of other machinery. He is general manager and treasurer of the Newtown Electric Street Railway Company, and actively associated with its management. For the past several years much of his time has been spent in Honduras, where he is associated with his father and brother John in the management of the Ulva Commercial Company, and the Olancho Mineral Company. He is a member of Newtown Lodge, No. 427, F. and A. M., and a well known young business man of Newtown.

LEWIS KELLER, the enterprising and successful merchant of Bedminster, was born in Plumstead township, Bucks county, Pennsylvania, December 26, 1852, being the eldest son of Abraham and Judith (Myers) Keller. He comes of good old Pennsylvania German stock who for five generations have been prominent in the affairs of the upper end of Bucks county. The pioneer ancestor of the family was Heinrich Keller, who was born in Weierbach, Baden, Germany, January 9, 1708, son of Wilhelm and Gertraut Keller. His wife was Juliana Kleindinst, daughter of Peter and Anna Maria Kleindinst, the former an official of Weierbach, Baden. Julianna was born in 1711, and was married to Heinrich Keller, October 20, 1728. Heinrich Keller, with his wife Julianna and four young children, emigrated to America in 1738 in the ship "Glasgow," arriving in Philadelphia on September 9, 1738. Their eldest child Peter died within a week of their landing, and seven others were born to them in Pennsylvania. Heinrich Keller was one of the organizers of Keller's Church in 1746, and was an elder there until his death on October 18, 1782. He purchased large tracts of land in Bedminster and Haycock, which descended to his children and grandchildren. His children, as shown by the records of the church of which he was one of the founders, were; 1. Johan Peter, born November 20, 1729, died September 15, 1738. 2. Johannes, born January 28, 1733, died 1792, married Maria Drach. 3. Anna Margaret, born June 2, 1735, married February 3, 1756, Solomon Gruver. 4. Maria Elizabeth, born November 19, 1737, married October 8, 1756, Philip Stever. 5. Eliz. Barbara, born April 14, 1739; married, 1760, John Niemand, and in 1760 Michael Steinbach. 6. Anna Maria, born November 5, 1742, married April 24, 1770, Adam Litzenger. 7. Johan, born June 20, 1745; died in 1781. 8. Johan Peter, born July 1746, twice married and had many children. Dorothea, born September 2, 1747, married Henry Steinbach. 10. Ch. December 15, 1751, died January 1, 1751. 11. Heinrich, born 1752, married Catharine Fox, and had many children.

revolutionary struggle, his eldest son, Colonel John Keller, being probably the most prominent of his nationality in the Bucks county. He was a member of colonial assembly in 1776, and in the same year a delegate to the first constitutional convention, and in 1778 was a member of the supreme executive council of Bucks county. In 1784 he was again returned as a member of the supreme executive council. At the organization of the Bucks county militia, in 1770, he was commissioned lieutenant-colonel of the Third Battalion, and in 1780 was assigned to the command of the Second Battalion. His battalion was in active service during the greater part of the war. His brothers Christopher and Henry, and his brother-in-law Philip Stever, were also in the service, the first as an ensign in the Fourth Battalion, and the last as a captain under Colonel Keller.

Christopher Keller, the tenth child of Heinrich and Juliana, born December 15, 1751, died July 8, 1820, was the great-grandfather of the subject of this sketch. He was commissioned an ensign in 1776, and his company was assigned to the "Flying Camp" and participated in the disastrous campaign on Long Island, where so many Bucks countians lost their lives or became prisoners in the "floating hells" in New York harbor. He married, February 17, 1778, Margaret Trauch, who was born in 1759, and died February 11, 1811. They were the parents of nine children, and have left numerous descendants. The children were: 1. John, born June 12, 1781, died February 25, 1842, and had nine daughters and two sons; a son Robert and two daughters still survive. 2. Henry, born September 28, 1783, died July 9, 1831. 3. Michael, born December 9, 1786, died November 25, 1853. 4. Elizabeth, born August 19, 1788. 5. Anna Catharine, born July 17, 1790. 6. Samuel, born April 20, 1792, died January 28, 1861. 7. Joseph, born November 10, 1794, died February 14, 1877; see forward. 8. Sarah, born November 14, 1797. 9. Daniel, born April 10, 1802.

Joseph, the seventh child of Christopher and Margaret, born November 10, 1794, was the grandfather of the subject of this sketch. He lived all his life in Haycock township. He was a blacksmith and farmer, an active and prominent man in the community, and was an elder of Keller's church. His wife was Anna Mary Afflerbach, who died in 1876; both are buried at Keller's church. They were the parents of nine children, three of whom are still living: 1. Ann Margaret, born November 23, 1822, died 1902; married John Shisler. 2. Abraham, born September 16, 1823, died December 23, 1880—see forward. 3. Catharine, born November 8, 1825, deceased; married Thomas Hulsizer. 4. Diana, born November 18, 1827; married Levi Stone. 5. Tobias, born March 3, 1830, died 1897; married a Miss Gerhart. 6. Joseph, born March 17, 1832, died 1898; married Lydia Afflerbach. 7. Sarah, born October 8, 1834; married Jacob Hess; second, Samuel Dotterer. 8. Maria, born February 17, 1837; married William Sames. 9. Abednego, born May 14, 1840, married Eliza Afflerbach, living in Haycock.

Abraham Keller, father of the subject of this sketch, was the eldest son of Joseph and Anna Mary (Afflerbach) Keller. He was born in Haycock township, and had only limited advantages in the way of education, but became an active and successful business man, and was an honored and respected man in the community in which he lived. He was a farmer in Plumstead township for a number of years, and later in Bedminster. In 1870 he entered into partnership with J. H. Afflerbach, under the firm name of J. H. Afflerbach & Co., and the firm conducted the Bedminster store for three years, when Mr. Keller purchased the entire interest and took his son Lewis into the firm, under the firm name of Keller & Son. Two years later he retired from the firm and left its control to his sons Lewis and Joseph. He then purchased the hotel at Bedminster, and conducted it for ten years, after which he conducted a feed store and looked after his farm and other property. He was twice married, first on October 10, 1847, to Judith Myers, who was the mother of all his children. She was born February 3, 1829, and died December 23, 1880. On December 26, 1881, Mr. Keller married Susanna, widow of Franklin Stautier, of Springfield, who survived him. Abraham and Judith Myers Keller were the parents of ten children: William, who died in infancy; Mary, born November 20, 1850, wife of H. S. Deaterly, Bedminster; Lewis, the subject of this sketch; Joseph, born November 17, 1854, living in Philadelphia; Amanda, born December 23, 1856, died July 26, 1874; Susanna, born March 17, 1858, died October 3, 1866; Abraham M., born March 20, 1860, living in Doylestown; Catharine, born July 8, 1862; married first Harvey Shull, now wife of Clinton Lerch, of Tinticum; Mahlon, born November 4, 1865, a justice of the peace and business man at Perkasi; Ira M., born June 8, 1868, died 1895.

Lewis Keller, the subject of this sketch, is one of the most successful and enterprising merchants in Bucks county. He was reared on his father's farm and received his education at the common schools of the neighborhood. At the age of seventeen he entered the store of J. H. Afflerbach & Co., at Bedminster, of which firm his father was a member, and three years later bought Mr. Afflerbach's interest, and for two years was a member of the firm of Keller & Son. In 1875 his father retired from the firm and was succeeded by his second son, Joseph M., and the firm name was changed to Keller & Brother. In 1878 Joseph M. retired from the firm, since which time the business has been conducted by Lewis Keller. He is a born merchant, and early realized the wants and needs of his customers and how to supply them, to the mutual benefit of vendor and vendee. In a few years the business outgrew its modest quarters, and a new and much larger store was erected, including a large furniture warehouse. On October 1, 1887, his store buildings and recently erected dwelling were entirely consumed by fire, entailing a loss of nearly $10,000 above the insurance. Undaunted by this misfortune, Mr. Keller erected a new and larger store, now the largest in Bucks county, and considerably increased his stock, and by closely studying the needs of the community and the wants of his customers and giving all courteous treatment, has built up the largest general store business in the county; demonstrating that a large business can be done out in the country away from railroad centers. The result is due to the integrity, industry and business ability of the genial proprietor.

Mr. Keller was married, December 23, 1876, to Emma J., daughter of Amos Harpel, who was born February 5, 1856. They have four children: 1. Hiram, born August 9, 1879, graduated in 1901 from Gettysburg College with the degree of A. B., and in 1904 from the law department of the University of Pennsylvania with the degree of LL. B.; was registered as a student in the law offices of Yerkes, Ross & Ross, and is now a member of the bars of Philadelphia and Bucks counties. 2. Erwin, born November 30, 1882, a student at the Pennsylvania State College. 3. Elsie, born October 21, 1890. 4. Norman Luther, born February 7, 1896, resides at home.

Mr. Keller has been postmaster of Bedminster since 1875. He is a member of St. Mathew's Evangelical Lutheran church.

HENRY TOWNSEND DARLINGTON, for twenty-three years the editor of the Bucks County Intelligencer, was born at "Darnhall," Birmingham township, Chester county, Pennsylvania, September 17, 1832, and died at Doylestown, Bucks county, November 24, 1878. He was the son of Edward B. and Hannah (Sharpless) Darlington, and therefore descended from two old, prominent and influential families of eastern Pennsylvania. All his ancestors in America were members of the Society of Friends.

On the paternal side, the subject of this sketch is a descendant in the ninth generation from Richland Darlington, of Darnhall, Cheshire, England, and in the fifth generation from Abraham Darlington, who migrated from Cheshire in 1711, and settled in Aston township, Chester (now Delaware) county, from whence he removed to Birmingham township, Chester county, in 1724. Abraham Darlington was a prominent and useful man in the community. While ostensibly a farmer, he was a saddler by trade, and in later life devoted much time to physic and surgery, and became proficient in the treatment of disease and setting of broken bones. He was twice married, first in March, 1712, to Deborah Carter, and second in 1716, to Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Hooten) Hillborn, of Attleboro Bucks county, by whom he had three daughters and two sons. He died 2 mo. 9, 1776, and his wife 1 mo. 28, 1771.

Thomas Darlington, son of Abraham and Elizabeth, was born in Birmingham, in 1725. He married 4 mo. 25, 1754, Hannah, daughter of Edward and Hannah (Pierce) Brinton, and settled in East Bradford, Chester county, where he was a prominent farmer. He died 12 mo. 17, 1808, and his widow 10 mo. 12, 1811. They were the parents of eleven children, nine sons and two daughters.

Edward, the eldest child of Thomas and Hannah (Brinton) Darlington, was born in East Bradford 6 mo. 3, 1755. On 3 mo. 8, 1781, he married Hannah, daughter of John and Joanna (England) Townsend, and settled on a farm of 282 acres in Birmingham, devised to him by his grandfather, Edward Brinton. He was an influential man and public-spirited citizen, a member of assembly for twelve years (1802-1814), and held many other positions of trust. He was one of the commissioners appointed to provide for the maintenance of the poor of the county, and took a prominent part in all that pertained to the best interests of the community. He died 4 mo. 1, 1825, and his wife 8 mo. 9, 1826. They were the parents of six children: William, the celebrated botanist, born 1782, died 1863; Thomas, born 1784, died 1866, unmarried; Ziba, born 1788, died 1875; Samuel, born 1793, died 1794; Jane, born 1796, died 1817, unmarried; and Edward.

Edward Brinton Darlington, youngest son of Edward and Hannah (Townsend) Darlington, was born in Birmingham, 12 mo. 16, 1798, and died there 5 mo. 6, 1851. He married 3 mo. 23, 1831, Hannah, daughter of Nathan H. and Martha (Price) Sharpless. He was a farmer and a prominent and active citizen. His children were Henry T., the subject of this sketch; Dillwyn, born 1834, died 1851; Martha, born 1837, married Henry Hulme, a native of France; Emily P., married Brinton W. Woodward, of Lawrence, Kansas; Hannah, married John E. Huey; Thomas, married Jane S. Paschall; and Catharine, married Frank A. Faxon, of Kansas City, Missouri.

Henry T. Darlington was born on the farm in Birmingham named by his grandfather "Darnhall" from the residence of his ancestors in England, and the first seventeen years of his life were spent thereon. The greater part of his education was obtained at the public schools of his native county. He spent one year at a boarding school kept by Benjamin Price, and another at Anthony Bolmar's school at West Chester. In 1849 he entered the office of the Village Record at West Chester as an apprentice under Henry S. Evans, and re-

Off to fight the Spaniard

Boredom was enemy of County troops in brief Spanish-American War of 1898

A conflict which was pathetically one-sided from the beginning, the Spanish-American War of 1898 gave a group of Noble County volunteer soldiers the opportunity to make a leisurely tour of the Sunny South.

They never did see action in Cuba or Puerto Rico, but rather were forced to endure such enemies as illness, inadequate food, heat, uncertainty and boredom in the three-and-one-half months from the time they left Indianapolis on May 15 until their return September 2.

And for this the men of Company L, 157th Regiment Volunteer Infantry, were paid $13 a month, with room, board and clothing furnished at no charge.

Some ninety men strong, Company L was led by Captain Charles L. Green of Ligonier, with First Lieutenant Jacob Ochs and Second Lieutenant Ray Shobe the other officers.

Organized at Ligonier the previous fall, Company L departed for Indianapolis three days after President William McKinley declared war with Spain April 23, 1898, and called for 125,000 volunteers to join the 28,000-man Regular Army.

They travelled by rail from Goshen to Indianapolis via Milford Center, Wabash and other points and were accompanied by Ligonier Mayor S. J. Strauss. In the towns through which they passed the volunteers were cheered and otherwise treated warmly by residents, many shaking hands with Civil War veterans.

Upon arriving at Camp Mount named for Indiana Governor James A. Mount - in the Indianapolis Fairgrounds, nine members of Company L failed to pass the physical examination and another twenty-nine decided that they did not want to be volunteers after all.

With his ranks thus depleted Capt. Green telegraphed Ligonier asking for another fifty recruits.

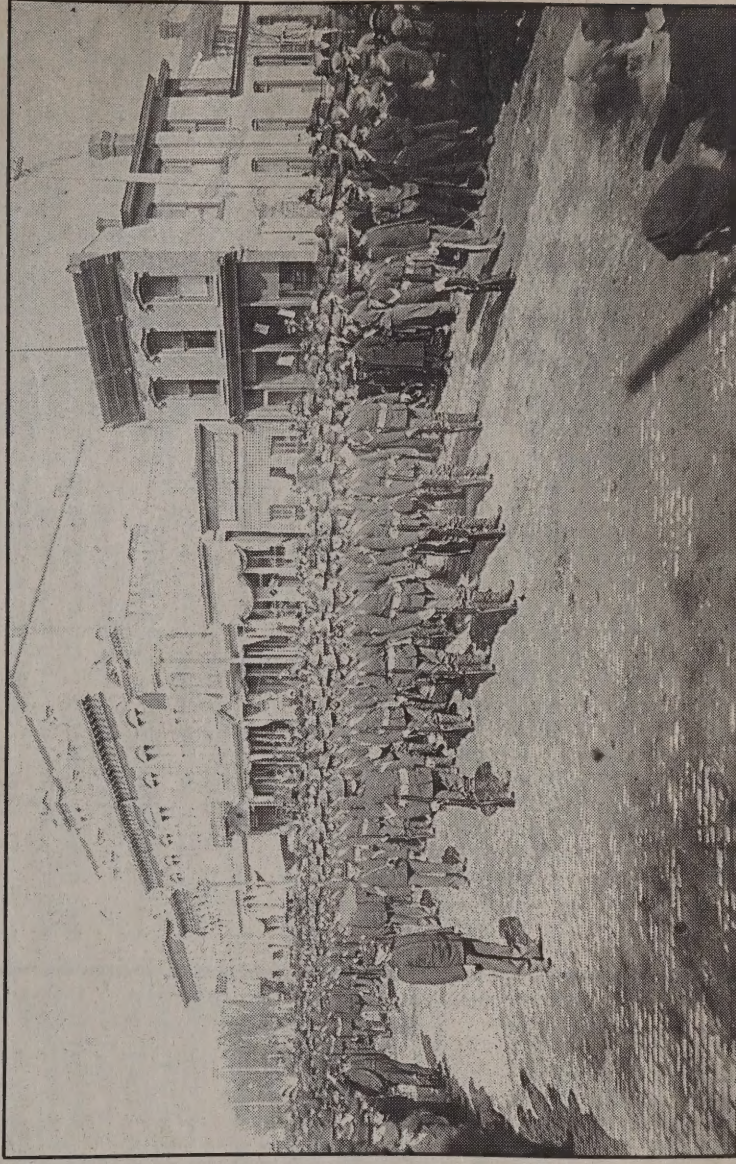

Through the efforts of John

Hoffman sixty more men were enlisted, including fourteen from Albion, where a militia company had been recruited a week earlier.

The following account of Com-

Front: Tony, Emmanuel Jr., Murray, Orlando; Back: Dorothy, Mabel, Matilda (mother), and Velma. Forrest was not present for this photo.

"I just didn't know any better, so I just did it," he says with a laugh.

"I was only six when I took them pigs into town, but I didn't lose a one," he says proudly.

Forrest was born April 28, 1900 in a house on County Line Road (now Ray Boggs residence) to Emmanuel Sr. and Matilda McCoy Geiger.

He had four brothers: Landon, Tony, Murray, and Emmanuel Jr., and four sisters: Mabel Gordon, Dorothy Gause, Ollie Lauri, and Velma Shively.

Today, Forrest and Emmanuel Jr. "Snick" are the only ones still living.

Because of their father's illness, all of the children were expected to carry more than their fair share and help pay the mortgage on the farm.

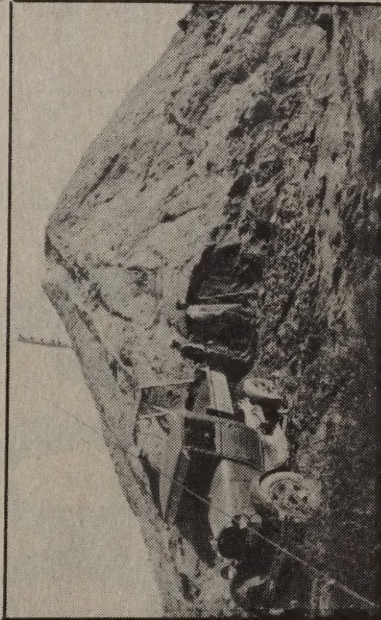

This was before and after they attended school, which was a two-mile walk each way. The Geiger kids walked the length of County Line Road and then turned left at Goshen Road (U.S. 33) and continued walking to Blue River School.

"Every day, didn't matter if it was snowing, raining or cold, we had to go to school and the only way to get there was to walk," said Forrest.

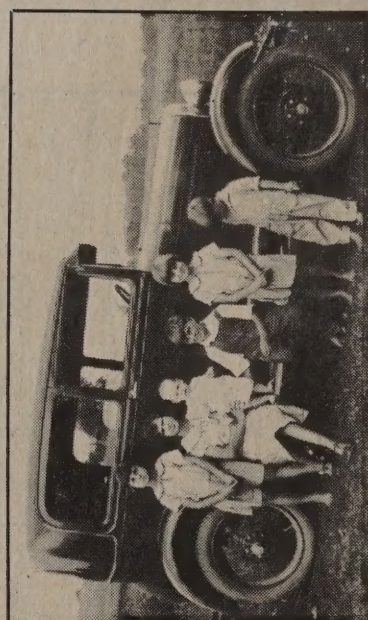

Forrest, in accordance with the times, graduated from school in the eighth grade. He traveled to Columbia City and took his graduation exam and passed and was declared a high school graduate.

Even today, Forrest is not real sure if he's sold on four years of high school.

"I sometimes think it might do a whole lot more good to have them kids out learning a trade that they can use the rest

FAMILY REUNION - 1904 - Forrest can be spotted at bottom right hand corner. Brother Landa is next to him. Forrest's mother is in the second row, third from right, holding Tony. Albion boys whose letters to their parents and the Democrat were reprinted in the newspaper were Bright Bortner, Carl Hardenbrook, Verne Worden, Eli Davis, Bert Mullen, John Anspaugh and Robert Roche of Ligonier.

Food was a popular topic. The first such reference appeared in a May 8 letter from Camp Mount listing the "grub" as consisting mostly of bacon, beans, hardtack, coffee, rice and beef soup.

This diet was welcome, however, as Bortner noted "If you could see us rush to mess you would think we were attacking the Spaniards."

After being sworn into federal service for two years the 157th and three other regiments march six miles from Camp Mount to the Union Station, with chimes playing as they tramped past the Soldiers and Sailors Monument.

By rail they passed through Louisville and Bowling Green, Kentucky, before arriving at Chattanooga, Tennessee. They then marched some four miles to Camp Thomas, Georgia, on the site of the Chickamauga Civil War battlefield. "The sun was hot and the road dusty and nearly half the boys dropped out along the route," noted Worden.

At Camp Thomas Worden shared a tent with Charles Parks, Lee Schutt and Prentice Cole, all from Noble County.

Meals consisting of one potato, a small piece of bacon, a cup of coffee and three hard tacks were noted in a June 2 letter from Camp Thomas and two members of Company L searched the Chickamauga battlefield and found a bullet and rebel (Confederate) coat button.

camp and marched to nearby Ringgold, Georgia, at a four-mile-an-hour pace carrying their belongings in 60-70-pound backpacks.

Over half the company "fell out" during this trek noted Anspaugh.

From Ringgold they travelled by train to Port Tampa, Florida, on the Gulf of Mexico, reaching there June 3.

They found its climate to be "extremely healthy," and the boys raided nearby watermelon patches and swam and fished in the warm waters of the Gulf.

It was from here that Private Roche of Ligonier wrote to the Democrat informing its editor that the "Democrat arrived at camp yesterday and was pounced upon and perused with avidity, not only by the Albion boys but by all members of Company L."

By July U. S. troops had prevailed in the key Battle of San Juan Hill and Spanish forces in Cuba had surrendered.

Faced with the almost certain knowledge that they would not see action, or even leave the continental United States, the troops at Port Tampa, including those in Company L, became frustrated and restless.

The night of July 12 a fight broke out between Forrest B. Robbins of Cromwell and James O'Connor of Ligonier. Robbins inflicted a severe gash in O'Connor's left shoulder with a small dagger.

Robbins was charged with assault with intent to kill and was to be tried by a general court martial. With the fighting in Cuba at an end, the 157th continued its wanderings, arriving at Camp Clinch, Fernandina, Florida, some twenty miles north of Jacksonville in the extreme northeastern corner of the state. It was only a mile from the Atlantic, where the troops enjoyed riding the ocean waves, some as high as 40 to 50 feet. Two soldiers were caught in the undertow from the waves and drowned, the first mention of any fatalities.

Growing dissatisfaction with their lot was evident in an Aug. 21 letter written by Anspaugh in his tent during a heavy rain. "The whole of the 157th have become disgusted as we have given up ever going to the front and will not be sent to Cuba or Puerto Rico for garrison duty."

"There is not a man in the whole regiment who is as strong as when he enlisted," added Anspaugh, noting the debilitating effect of the hot, humid weather, inactivity ("No drilling and all the boys sitting around in the shade") and inadequate diet.

Anspaugh further noted, with some asperity, that an Albion boy, Charles Miller, serving aboard a U. S. Navy cruiser off the coast of Puerto Rico, had a letter in the Democrat almost every week.

"The Navy is heaven compared with our kind of life," he pointed out. After spending August in the punishing heat at Fernandina, the 157th was ordered back to Indianapolis where, on Sept. 10, its members were furloughed for thirty days.

For all practical purposes their time as soldiers was over. Company L reached Ligonier about 6:30 that evening, some five hours after it had been scheduled to arrive.

At the depot its members were greeted by representatives of the Ligonier Grand Army Post and a "mammoth band" made up of musicians from Ligonier, Albion and Topeka.

The march from the depot to Cavin Park was one continual ovation. Flags were unfurled and waved, a gun squad gave them a salute, whistles were blown and along the line of march they were greeted with a continuous cheer. It was a short war, lasting less than 100 days and American casualties were light.

But for the two nations involved its consequences were great. For Spain defeat meant the loss of the last remnants of its once great colonial empire.

In victory the United States - for the first time - was recognized as a "world power."

There's Nothing Like It

There's all kinds of love in this world. But there's nothing like the love of a family. It's a special kind of love. The love between a husband and wife, between parent and child, between grandparents and grandchildren, brothers and sisters. Love is something that never leaves a family. The love of a family never grows old. It just grows.

You're 'inclined' to have a lot of fun in Pittsburgh

Without a doubt, the best way to see the great, modern cityscape that is Pittsburgh is to ride one of its historic inclines up Mt. Washington on the south shore seeing vessels, tugs pushing long strings of barges and majestic paddle-wheelers. The grand panorama includes lots of bridges, Point State Park where the Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers merge to form the Ohio River, the towering glass and steel office buildings and Three Rivers Stadium, home of the Pirates and Steelers professional baseball and football teams.

Only two inclines of the original 15, the Monongahela and the Duquesne, remain in service. These boxy looking cable cars began operating up the side of the mountain when coal was king and known as Mt. Washington. They enabled the development of that seven years later. The original cars have been renovated, but are still taking passengers up and down the 637-foot-long track at a relaxing speed of six miles per hour. You can take advantage of the dramatic view for a dollar each way.

Get there by driving over the Liberty Bridge or on the subway which comes out of the ground just before it reaches the river then crosses it and lets you out a couple hundred yards from the Monongahela Incline. Duquesne Incline is located another half-mile down river. Both operate from 5:30 a.m. to 12:45 a.m. Monday through Saturday and 8:45 a.m. to midnight Sunday.

area of the city some 600 feet above the river. Back then, however, the inclines were not used by tourists to get a breathtaking view of the city. In fact, industrial smoke and grime filled the air so thickly that any glimpse of the metropolis across the river was practically impossible. That's not a problem now.

The Monongahela, the nation's oldest incline and national historic landmark, was opened in 1870, while the Duquesne came along

Spotlight on Forrest Geiger . . . 97 years old

(Ed. note: This is the fourth in a series of articles which are part of the special 150th anniversary of Churubusco being celebrated this year. For the past few weeks and in the weeks to come, some very special senior citizens will be profiled in this newspaper. All of these citizens are 95 years of age or older and all have lived in this area for most of their lives.)

by Viv Rosswurm

When Forrest Geiger was in first grade and only 6 or 7 years old, he traveled from his home several miles north of Churubusco on County Line Road, and herded 100 hogs into Churubusco to the stockyards just south of the railroad tracks on Main Street.

What makes this story even more incredulous is that young Forrest had to make the trip alone, in the middle of the night, to avoid traffic and be extra careful not to lose any of the pigs, which were being sold to help pay the mortgage on the farm.

Forrest did not only have all 100 pigs when he finally arrived at the stockyards in the wee hours of the morning, but continued to wait outside a nearby restaurant until his father showed up in the morning to settle up with the livestock clerk.

Forrest's father was ill and in and out of the hospital during most of Forrest's childhood, and died when Forrest was 12 years old. With eight brothers and sisters and a 244 acre farm to look after, there was not much time for Forrest to think about all the hard work he was expected to do.

"I just didn't know any better, so I just did it," he says with a laugh.

"I was only six when I took them pigs into town, but I didn't lose a one," he says proudly.

Forrest was born April 28, 1900 in a house on County Line Road (now Ray Boggs residence) to Emmanuel Sr. and Matilda McCoy Geiger.

He had four brothers: Landon, Tony, Murray, and Emmanuel Jr., and four sisters: Mabel Gordon, Dorothy Gause, Ollie Lauri, and Velma Shively.

Today, Forrest and Emmanuel Jr. "Snick" are the only ones still living.

Because of their father's illness, all of the children were expected to carry more than their fair share and help pay the mortgage on the farm.

This was before and after they attended school, which was a two-mile walk each way. The Geiger kids walked the length of County Line Road and then turned left at Goshen Road (U.S. 33) and continued walking to Blue River School.

"Every day, didn't matter if it was snowing, raining or cold, we had to go to school and the only way to get there was to walk," said Forrest.

Forrest, in accordance with the times, graduated from school in the eighth grade. He traveled to Columbia City and took his graduation exam and passed and was declared a high school graduate.

Even today, Forrest is not real sure if he's sold on four years of high school.

"I sometimes think it might do a whole lot more good to have them kids out learning a trade that they can use the rest of their lives rather than sitting in a classroom for four years," he said.

Forrest leans back in his favorite chair to light his pipe, a habit he began when he was ten years old.

"Well, actually," he says with a grin, "my mom didn't know it, but I started smoking corn silk when I was only eight. We'd go out after they shucked corn, grab some silk and sneak behind the woodshed and roll it up in slivers of newspaper to smoke it."

But Forrest is quick to note that he doubted if his mother would have objected.

"She never told me what to do or how to do it. I just had to know what to do and how to do it," he explained.

Because of this, Forrest grew up very quickly and helped his family cope and survive during some very hard times.

Before Forrest was barely a teenager he had obtained a loan and started himself in business. At the age of 14 he owned five gravel pits in and around Churubusco, including Columbia City, Wolf Lake and Collins. This was to become a lifelong career for Forrest, who didn't retire from the gravel pits until 1973.

He did a lot of county work, as ordered by the county commissioners, and over the years, graveled every road in Whitley County, some more than once. He can still remember that it cost $2 for a load of gravel.

Fourth in a special series in the Churubusco News

When he was 18, he was in Green Center and saw a cousin of his who had two girls in the buggy with him, and they were galloping toward Chapel Church. Forrest caught up to them and asked if he might help lighten the load by escorting one of the young ladies to church.

Hazel Pippenger accepted Forrest's offer and climbed into his buggy, and as Forrest notes, "She was mine from then on."

They were married 62 years until Hazel's death in 1981.

Forrest and Hazel had six kids, one of whom was Allen who died at the age of 9 months.

The other children were Dwight "Dike", Marcella "Tete" Baughman, Lavelda "Fay" Zuzulo, Alberta "Bine" Fogle, and Ervin "Bucky."

Although Forrest agrees that times were tough during the Great Depression, he says times weren't that tough for him, since he had learned to fare on his own at a very young age, and make do with what he had.

He remembers that during the Depression, he had to find some money to buy a special milk for the baby, Alberta, who could only drink a certain brand of canned milk.

"I had fifteen cents left - it was the last fifteen cents I owned - and I walked to Churubusco from our home in Green Township and spent that money on a can of Eagle Brand milk for her."

At a very young age, when most kids are only worried about playing ball or climbing trees, Forrest was adept at constructing buildings of all kinds, laying field tile, grating and graveling roads, hauling logs, as well as being a talented entrepreneur and inventor.

Forrest also made, designed and drove the first motorized school bus in Whitley and Noble counties. As soon as he could, he switched in the horse and wagon that he was using to haul kids to school and began designing a motorized schoolbus in his workshop. Putting his tin shears and creative genius to work, he managed to perfect a body for the bus and hooked it onto a Model T chassis. On each side were benches facing each other. Twelve children could fit on each bench.

For many years after that, Forrest never missed a day picking up children and delivering them to school in Churubusco, Green Center, Blue River, Charter Oak, and Sugar Grove.

Since the roads were dirt, and when it rained, turned into a quagmire of sticky mud, Forrest is also proud to point out that he never once got stuck.

"I just put chains on the rear tires and we always managed to pull through," he said.

Forrest's craftsmanship and skills would come in handy later when his brother, Emmanuel, in two separate farming accidents, lost both of his hands.

Forrest once again went to work in his shed with some old tin and wire shears and made Emmanuel a custom fitted prothesis for each arm.

"When I took them over there, Emmanuel was just laying on the sofa, staring into space. I knew his favorite treat was chocolate covered peanuts, so I told his wife, Mabel, to go get a bowl full," said Forrest.

"Then I fitted the prothesis on each arm and showed him how to pick up a peanut by pressing one forearm against another to open and close the hook."

"When I saw him reach in and pick up one of those peanuts is when I saw him start to live again."

Even though Forrest was a conscientious objector, which was not an overwhelming favorite position to take, especially during World War II, he ran for school board in the forties and carried away more votes than both parties combined.

Forrest remembers one of the biggest improvements in Churubusco was the graveling of Main Street, and later, the paving.

"Before that, the road would get so muddy, you would just sink if you tried to walk across it," he said.

Forrest also remembers when electricity first came to Churubusco.

"The lights would flicker at 8:45 p.m. and that was a warning," said Forrest. "You had fifteen minutes to get your horse and buggy and get home before the lights were turned out for good at 9 p.m."

Forrest's earliest and most favorite memory is of his much beloved and hard working mother.

"I was about four years old, I know that because I had not yet learned to tie a bow in my shoelaces, so I always knotted them."

"I had fallen asleep on the floor and my mother came in at 9 o'clock after working hard all day and tried to get my shoes off to get me ready for bed. She finally went into the kitchen and got a butcher knife and cut them off."

"Then she picked me up and carried me upstairs and tucked me in my bed, and I'll never forget she recited 'Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If I should die before I wake'."

"Well, I sat up and said to her, 'I could die?' and she said 'yes, everyone has to die sometime.' That was the first time I realized I could die."

"She finished the prayer, 'I pray the Lord my soul to take.' I'll never forget that, my mother, so tired, carrying me upstairs and saying that prayer."

The mothers (in this world) don't get credit for what they really are and what they really do. Now, if you are a good mother, well then that's something."

Today Forrest still mows his yard every week and plants a full garden every spring. He also notes, with an ironic grin, that he lives on one of the only unpaved roads in Whitley County, even though he paved and graveled almost all of the other roads in the county at one time.

"Life has been good to me. I just keep on going. There's no other way," he says, tapping some tobacco into his pipe and lighting it up. "When your time is up, it's up. Guess mine ain't up yet."

"I had fifteen cents left - it was the last fifteen cents I owned - and I walked to Churubusco from our home in Green Township and spent that money on a can of Eagle Brand milk for her."

Indiana's Third World education embarrassment

by Brian Howey

INDIANAPOLIS—The resignation of Indianapolis Public Schools Superintendent Esperanza Zendejas this past week is nothing less than a tragedy of epic proportions and a symptom that something is terribly wrong.

Mayor Stephen Goldsmith calls the resignation and the state of this city's school system nothing less than a "catastrophe."

It comes in Indiana's state capital, a city that prides itself on being "major league" and "world class." In some aspects it is, or was, with the 1987 Pan Am Games and its glistening new or under construction stadiums.

But Indianapolis in some ways is a Third World city, particularly when it comes to education. IPS in the course of a generation has gone from being one of the better school districts in the state to one of the worst. In the past decade its enrollment has dropped from more than 100,000 students to about 45,000 today. Superintendent Zendejas, whose tenure will be a mere three years, predicted recently that it would probably drop to 33,000 in the next decade.

When she resigned, she said that IPS would need a "miracle."

The blame for this smear on the Hoosier psyche must go to many places—racists, the judiciary, teachers and administrators, Indianapolis voters, and the Indiana General Assembly.

Why? First, there is a dramatic white flight from Indianapolis into the 10 neighboring township school districts in Marion County. Some of this can be attributed to just plain old racism. Some white trash parents just don't want their kids to go to school with black kids. U.S. District Court Judge S. Hugh Dillin should get a lot of the blame. He took control of IPS in 1971 when it was a bastion of segregation and instituted court-ordered busing. Because of this IPS spends $5,900 for a child who attends an IPS school, and $9,500 for a child who is bused to one of the neighboring 10 townships, or about the price of sending a student to an exclusive private school like Park Tudor.

Court-ordered busing costs

Howey Political Report

IPS about $47 million a year. Let me repeat that: $47 million annually!

In three years, that's nearly enough to build the Indiana Pacers a new basketball stadium.

More blame must go to the Indiana General Assembly which in 1970 created Univox. It brought in tax dollars and votes from the surrounding townships, but froze the school districts that were predominantly white in the townships and black within the old Indianapolis city limits while the central taxing base eroded. Education in Indianapolis compared to that in the township is separate and unequal.

It ultimately preserves a pork-laden, good ol' boy network of 11 different school districts with 11 different superintendents, 11 school boards, 11 sets of consultants, and so on. It lines the public trough with attorneys and special interests all at the expense of tens of thousands of kids. It prompts the township districts to build new schools a few blocks from shuttered schools in IPS.

Despite all of that, I was in a position to give IPS a chance when faced with the prospect of putting my two young sons into school last year. They would have gone to School 86 near the Butler University campus as part of a select school program instituted by the last IPS superintendent, Shirl Gilbert.

Over the summer, I changed my mind. Zendejas ended the select school program and closed School 86 along with nine other elementary schools.

What ultimately led to my decision to flee to Washington Township were reports of IPS school board member Hazel Stewart showing up at Zendejas' office to air complaints. That confrontation ended with Stewart chasing Zendejas around her office conjuring pathetic, cartoon-like images.

When Stewart was informed of the resignation, she told the Indianapolis Star that she really didn't care.

It was interesting that when I attended a back-to-school night in Washington Township last August, I met about five other parents—both black and white—who were like me: refugees of IPS seeking a stable, progressive environment for our children.

The IPS school board is a collection of idiots who hired Zendejas to turn the district around and then refused to go along with her reforms. Some of those ideas included putting poorly-performing schools and building principals on probation and firing those who didn't respond.

The Zendejas resignation comes in the face of school board elections next May which ultimately would have centered on the superintendent as a personality and not the true issues at hand.

What is Indianapolis and the State of Indiana going to do about this Third World school district?

I heard Zendejas give a speech in Shelbyville last year and came away deeply impressed. She dwelled on the need for parents to impress upon their children personal responsibility. That could be as simple of a concept as making them understand what things cost.

It's a lesson that our lawmakers haven't learned.

The Indiana General Assembly ought to consider in the short term something similar to what Congress did with Washington D.C.: take over the school district to immediately address the hemorrhaging of fleeing families and dismal performances. What does it say about our state when decent families in the capital have to flee in order to assure a good education for our children? The current system of an elected school board and a parade of superintendents each trying to reinvent the wheel of education has been nothing short of a disaster.

In the long run, the General Assembly should study the massive waste of money that 11 duplicate school districts means for Indianapolis and the colossal waste of busing to enforce integration. Might, say, four school districts save millions of dollars and solve integration problems?

Conservatives—and this state is full of them—always rail about excessive government and waste. Yet right under the 150 noses of legislators is a system rampant with waste and a record of embarrassing performance.

Caught in the middle of all this are 45,000 kids, many of whom will never reach their potential, many destined for the criminal class simply because this state's ruling fathers and the institutions they foster never really gave them a chance.

Expect The Wurst

Ohio town honors its German roots by serving up tons of savory bratwurst—you never “sausage” a sight!

By Louise Myles, Cleveland, Ohio

EVERY AUGUST, the residents of Bucyrus, Ohio hang out the “Wilkommen” sign and hold a hearty celebration of their German heritage with a rousing Bratwurst Festival.

As you might guess, this celebration revolves around bratwurst, a German pork sausage. But these aren’t just any old brats—they’re tasty Bucyrus bratwurst, made using local recipes handed down from generation to generation.

During the course of this 3-day festival, volunteers slow-cook about 27 tons of brats over open fires on Sandusky Avenue. Talk about a heavenly aroma!

Try a brat on a rye sandwich roll, smothered with chopped onions, sauerkraut and hot mustard—it’s delicious! There’s also bratwurst pitas with a secret topping and bratwurst casserole. Add more than 100 other foods to the festival’s “menu” and you’ll understand why this is one of Ohio’s premier celebrations of German gemutlichkeit (“good life”).

The festival starts at noon on Thursday with a unique flourish. A resident runs down Sandusky Avenue to deliver a brat on a silver tray to the outgoing festival queen. She then takes the first bite of a brat, kicking off the festivities.

But food is only part of the fun. The town holds a different parade every evening, plus craft demonstrations, live music, carnival rides and bratwurst-, cream puff- and pizza-eating contests.

As we strolled around checking out the food vendors, we ran across an added attraction: a colorful 130-foot-long, 34-foot-high mural that depicts the town as it looked at the turn-of-the-century. It’s very impressive. Another large Grohe mural, Liberty Remembers, is a half block north on Sandusky Avenue.

During the festival, we parked our motor home at the nearby Crawford County Fairgrounds and took a convenient shuttle bus downtown. All in all, it was a great way to experience small-town America at its best—and “wurst”!

Expect The Wurst

Ohio town honors its German roots by serving up tons of savory bratwurst—you never “sausage” a sight!

By Louise Myles, Cleveland, Ohio

EVERY AUGUST, the residents of Bucyrus, Ohio hang out the “Willkommen” sign and hold a hearty celebration of their German heritage with a rousing Bratwurst Festival.

As you might guess, this celebration revolves around bratwurst, a German pork sausage. But these aren't just any old brats—they're tasty Bucyrus bratwurst, made using local recipes handed down from generation to generation.

During the course of this 3-day festival, volunteers slow-cook about 27 tons of brats over open fires on Sandusky Avenue. Talk about a heavenly aroma!

Try a brat on a rye sandwich roll, smothered with chopped onions, sauerkraut and hot mustard—it's delicious! There's also bratwurst pitas with a secret topping and bratwurst casserole. Add more than 100 other foods to the festival's “menu” and you'll understand why this is one of Ohio's premier celebrations of German gemutlichkeit (“good life”).

The festival starts at noon on Thursday with a unique flourish. A resident runs down Sandusky Avenue to deliver a brat on a silver tray to the outgoing festival queen. She then takes the first bite of a brat, kicking off the festivities.

But food is only part of the fun. The town holds a different parade every evening, plus craft demonstrations, live music, carnival rides and bratwurst-, cream puff- and pizza-eating contests.

As we strolled around checking out the food vendors, we ran across an added attraction: a colorful 130-foot-long, 34-foot-high mural that depicts the town as it looked at the turn-of-the-century. It's very impressive. Another large Grohe mural, Liberty Remembers, is a half block north on Sandusky Avenue.

During the festival, we parked our motor home at the nearby Crawford County Fairgrounds and took a convenient shuttle bus downtown. All in all, it was a great way to experience small-town America at its best—and “wurst”!

Noble County history lives on at Stone's Trace

When the stagecoach pulled up to Stone's Tavern at the junction of Goshen/Fort Wayne Trail and the Huntington/White Pigeon Trail in 1840s, weary travelers must have rubbed their eyes at the sight.

After days in thick woods, always alert for wilderness dangers, lights from the two-story large building exuded warmth and comfort.

The experience of early pioneers in Noble County lives on at Stone's Trace at the same junction, now US 33 and SR 5.

Dick Hursey, president of the Stone's Trace Historical Society, says, "Our motto says it all: 'Give the past a future.' We want it to live on for years."

Dick's wife, Jane Hursey, is secretary of the historical society. Neither she or Dick can remember how many years they have been officers. They began volunteering in 1965 "doing whatever they were asked to do."

They live next door to the historical site and one of the president's duties is mowing the extensive grounds. When Dick trims, it takes 10 to 12 hours a week. If he doesn't trim, about eight hours.

In 1965 Ligonier druggist Graydon Blue persuaded the owner to donate the tavern, and volunteers took two years to restore it. Later an adjacent 1877 brick house was added to the site, creating a 25-acre historical oasis.

Dr. Floyd Warren, retired Ligonier veterinarian, is organizing a library of historical documents in the house. Warren acts as curator of the museum and is a valued narrator for groups touring the site.

Dick says that a woodshop, which houses hand and foot powered tools, inspires appreciation for the ingenuity of pioneers who built without power tools.

events a year including reunions and birthday parties. Fourth grade classes hold pioneer days at the site where the students and teachers do pioneer crafts such as dying with native plants or basket making.

The biggest event of the year is Stone's Trace Pioneer Festival on the weekend after Labor Day, Sept. 9 and 10 this year. The festival provides all the funds to maintain the historical site.

The festival emphasis is educational. Pioneer crafts are demonstrated. Dick says, "In this tear-down throw-away society, it is important that we preserve the ways our ancestors used all available materials."

Prospective demonstrators contact Jane and she gives the information about their demonstrations to a committee who selects ones that demonstrate pioneer crafts.

Many volunteers have worked at the festival since its inception. The Sparta Township home demonstration club, Ladybugs, has made taffy apples and apple fritters for 33 years.

A black powder gun club, The Stone's Trace Regulators, holds a muzzle loading demonstration and shoot during the festival.

Gail Hursey, daughter of the druggist who obtained the original tavern donation, arranges 1840s type entertainment for the festival such as fiddle playing and folk singing.

Jane mentioned especially the volunteers who created an authentic pioneer herb garden and a volunteer who is hunting grants to replace the tavern windows.

Jane says, "Without hours of labor by volunteers, Stone's Trace would be another forgotten part of Noble County history."

A death has occurred and everything is changed by this event. We are painfully aware that life can never be the same again, that yesterday is over, that relationships once rich have ended. But there is another way to look upon this truth. If life went on the same without the presence of the one who has died, we could only conclude that the life we here celebrate made no contribution, filled no space, meant nothing. The fact that this individual left behind a place that cannot be filled is a high tribute to this individual. Life can be the same after a trinket has been lost, but never after the loss of a treasure.

Three Rivers Festival

Fun Over Fifty —

TRF adds excitement to festival

*Significant Seniors
Monday, Seniors Day,
Fun Over Fifty*

Regardless of the name, it's been around for awhile. Out of the desire to provide a little fun for folks of all ages, the Three Rivers Festival in 1989 began setting aside a day in honor of the over-fifty crowd. Originally billed as Significant Seniors Monday, that first year offered concerts, genealogy workshops and tours of the GM plant and the Allen County Courthouse. Each year, a few activities were added, a few were discontinued, until Fun Over Fifty Day settled into the format enjoyed by our guests over the past few years. They would meet at the Plaza in Headwaters Park for euchre in the morning, bingo in the afternoon, and maybe a shuttle tour around downtown Fort Wayne, and still have time left over to enjoy a snack from Food Alley (with a little light music in the background, for your dining pleasure.) Well, all that's about to change!

Oh, don't worry...we will still offer most of the favorites from years past: the shuttle tour, providing an opportunity to appreciate some of Fort Wayne's finest architecture, hands-on crafts, and plenty of time for euchre and bingo. But this year you might want to get an earlier start, because now there's a whole lot more to keep you busy!

The most significant addition to this year's activities is a Senior Expo. Organizations from Fort Wayne and the surrounding communities will offer information and activities relevant to our guests. We even have a vendor of portable hot tubs joining us to display and demonstrate their products! In addition, there will be information on senior housing options and related services.

Another exciting change to the line-up for this year is the list of activities available in addition to the games enjoyed in years past. A master gardener will give a demonstration on container gardening; a local restaurant will offer cooking demonstrations, and the Applejack Cloggers are scheduled to perform (they might even give an impromptu lesson to those brave souls wanting to give it a try!) We're even expanding our area into the grass; if you need a break from all the activity, you can relax and refresh with a certified tai chi instructor. After enjoying your dinner from Sprint PCS Food Alley in the shade of the plaza, stick around for an evening of the best in '60s and '70s rock 'n roll and R&B from the band Nostalgia.

Obviously, the Fun Over Fifty committee has been tossing around a lot of great ideas. This list will keep growing as we LaOtto, a one-stoplight town, has settled into the peaceful mode that description connotes. No longer do more than 10,000 vehicles rumble through town daily.

Lovely little LaOtto

Town enjoys the quiet of being passed by

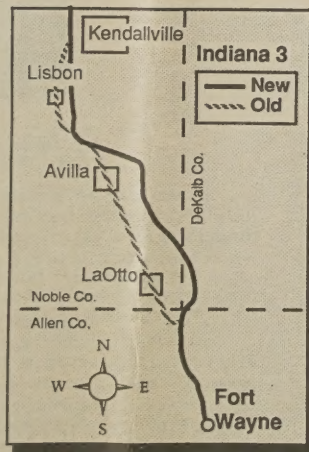

LaOtto residents say they had to fight to get directional signs on the new section of Indiana 3. At that, the signs are small enough to miss and they spell the name with a small "o" — a version not in favor with townsfolk or mapmakers.

WHEN A NEW, four-lane section of Indiana 3 opened between Fort Wayne and Kendallville last December, one of the towns it bypassed was LaOtto, nestled at the intersection of Indiana 205 and old Indiana 3. It took with it thousands of cars and trucks that used to barrel through the heart of this Noble County hamlet, morning, noon and night.

But nobody's shedding any tears over it. Instead, LaOtto has returned happily to its quiet-little-town status. People stroll across the street when they want to; cars can back out of angled parking spaces safely; even phone conversations are better without 16-wheelers rumbling through town only a few feet away from the businesses and homes that line the main street.

STAFF ILLUSTRATION BY JODI BOYDEN

N. John Passey, director of the Fort Wayne district of the Indiana Department of Transportation, says the daily traffic count through LaOtto before the new four-lane artery opened probably was about 12,000 vehicles. He says a count taken in 1988 at the DeKalb County line about a mile south of LaOtto was 10,330.

There's no official count now, but the Rev. Jim Watkins of LaOtto Wesleyan Church says the day before the new four-lane opened, 800 cars and trucks went through LaOtto from 4 to 5 p.m., and the next day, there were fewer than 200 during the same time period.

"I've heard no sorrow at all the traffic being out of here," he says. Townspeople agree. Jerry Whan, whose home faces 3 — already called "old 3" by most in the area — operates a small-engine repair and mower sharpening business in a garage behind his house.

"Some mornings, you couldn't get across the highway for the traffic. Then at 4 o'clock, they started back," says Whan, whose business is "pretty much local."

For Becky Cox, who operates Becky's Styles Unlimited across the street, the benefits far outweigh any effect on her salon.

"It's great on (less) noise," she says, "and a lot less dangerous. We don't have big trucks going by ... and the gas fumes are not as bad. You can let the fresh air in."

Architect Phil Troyer, whose office in the old bank building is separated from the traffic by only a plate-glass window, says conducting business is a lot easier without the truck noise, but business is unaffected otherwise.

"I look at what happened to Huntertown 25 years ago when it was bypassed; it hasn't hurt them too much," Troyer says. "The four-lane helps Noble County; it brings Fort Wayne and Kendallville closer together. ... The small towns are primarily bedroom communities for Fort Wayne and Kendallville, so it improves that situation."

Gregg Follis at Sit 'N' Bull Pub couldn't be happier. Business is solid.

"It's amazing," he says. "I really anticipated some change. What are we losing — 10,000 cars a day or more?"

But people still flock in for lunch and dinner and often comment on how nice it is not to fight the traffic getting in and out of the restaurant's parking area.

One negative note — and even that is tempered by his personal pleasure in having a quieter town — comes from Terry Cartwright at the town's only gas station. Gas sales are down.

"I have mixed feelings," he says. "It's hard on business, but nice not to have all that truck traffic."

vehicles and stocks some convenience food items at Cartwright Service.

With bread, rolls, milk, pop, cookies and other snacks, Cartwright provides a service to residents who otherwise would have to drive several miles to a grocery store. The closest are in Avilla, Garrett and Churubusco, five to seven miles away.

At times during its heyday, from the early 1900s to the 1940s, LaOtto had two grocery stores. It also had three gas stations and numerous other businesses, including a hardware store, automotive supply store, barber shop, four restaurants, a small hotel and even an ice cream shop. People still remember Annie Brown's Ice Cream Shop catty-cornered from the old LaOtto school.

"Oh, yes," says Beverly Lutter, who owns Farmers Corner Family Restaurant just east of old 3 on 205. "I remember their fried baloney sandwiches. It was the hot spot in town," she says with a laugh.

"When we were kids, you could get nickel ice cream. I bet it's been closed 30 years."

Lutter says she has noticed no change in her restaurant. "If anything, more people are going past (on 205) to get onto (new) 3."

People getting to another destination is what started LaOtto in the first place.

In 1870, the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad was constructed from Fort Wayne to Sturgis, Mich., then on to Grand Rapids the next year. Two years later, the Eel River Railroad came through east and west, creating the town site in southern Swan Township that would become LaOtto.

In 1872, five men — David Vorhees, Martin Bilger, and David, Solomon and Johnathon Simon — platted the town; they mapped out 101 lots on the Lima Plank Road at the crossing of the two railroads. Originally named Simonsville or Simons Corner — sources differ — the town name didn't suit the GR&I, which referred to the location as Grand Rapids Crossing. This did not please the townspeople who, in 1875, petitioned the county commissioners to change the name.

The story goes that the name LaOtto originated with the town's first Lutheran minister, the Rev. B.F. Stultz, and may have had some connection to the fact that Otto von Bismarck was the powerful reichschancellor of the German empire at the time.

At any rate, it has been LaOtto since 1875. However, the train tracks, over which the Wabash Cannonball to St. Louis, the Vandalia Special to Toledo and the GR&I "hayfever special" from Indianapolis to Northern Michigan formerly passed, have disappeared from the scene. The last were removed in the late '70s.

Doug Cartwright, who has the reputation of being the town's unofficial historian, is proud of LaOtto.

"It's a very industrious little community," he says. "We're in the corner of the county and have survived through our own efforts for so long we're used to it. ... Swan Township's even cut out of Noble County in the (state) legislature. Our representatives are in New Haven, Decatur and Fort Wayne and our state senator is in South Whitley. We're orphans."

Doug Cartwright, president of LaOtto Community Association, says the townspeople are hard-working, proud people. Over the years, they've built a nine-acre park, complete with community building, playground equipment and three ball diamonds, two of them lighted.

(Redistricting by the Indiana General Assembly will be changing that situation somewhat.)

There are several small manufacturing concerns in and around the community and Cartwright, whose son runs Cartwright Service, says "more people work here than live here." He estimates the town population at "roughly 400 people."

Thurlo Gaff, who has lived in LaOtto 50 years, says there are "112 to 115 houses in town — I counted once."

Gaff and his wife, Betty, built their home 42 years ago; they say for 30 years they never locked their doors. They, too, have noticed increased traffic on 205, which runs along the north side of their property, especially during morning and evening commuting hours. They're hoping that will help keep the sale of Christmas trees up at the LaOtto Fire Department this year.

"We sold 900 last year," Thurlo Gaff says. "People from Auburn to Columbia City, Fort Wayne to Kendallville stopped."

It's a big fund-raiser for the volunteer department, which also has regular chicken barbecues and fish fries to raise money. (There'll be a barbecue at the fire hall from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday.)

Townspeople also band together in the LaOtto Community Association and have built the town's park.

"It's all contributions and volunteers," says Doug Cartwright, president of the association. "We don't get any kind of (government) help."

They didn't have their annual Old Trappers Days Festival this summer though.

"We felt people were about festivaled to death," he says. "You wouldn't believe the number of people it takes to put it together, and we just didn't make enough money to make it worthwhile."

Still, Cartwright thinks the town has spunk and always has.

"We've lost some of our transient business ... but most people didn't stop in LaOtto. It wasn't anything but a wide spot in the road to them."

For the pioneers, it was a hole in the road.

A history of the area, compiled by Richard E. Porter for the town's centennial celebration, describes the Fort Wayne-Lima Road as little more than a path through the woods with many great muck holes — "so deep as to seem they had no bottoms." In 1847, industrious farmers and businessmen decided Betty and Thurlo Gaff built their home in LaOtto 42 years ago. Their garden grows about where the old railroad tracks used to cut through town. They say traffic on Indiana 205, next to their house, has picked up since the new four-lane opened east of town.

moment in the limelight sometime, in life, every small town has some claim to similar fame. At the Wesleyan Church, built in 1859, a sign says it was an Underground Railroad site during the Civil War.

"Fort Wayne was a staging area (for runaway slaves) and they would bring them up 3," says Watkins, the church pastor. "There were rumors that the church was shot at. We found one of the original doors with bullet scars in it, so we have some physical evidence."

Doug Cartwright knows another piece of history that sets the town apart.

"During the Depression," he says, relishing the story, "our bank never closed. Floyd Gause was determined his bank was going to stay solvent and it did. The way he operated, see, if you wanted a loan from Floyd, you had to prove you didn't need it."

This brings a big laugh from the storyteller, but there's more.

"When banks were being robbed all over the country, it was never robbed either. Floyd took a pulley and ropes and attached them to a latch on the front door. When someone took hold of the handle, Floyd would look through the window from behind the counter — he kept a .45 right there. If he knew you, he'd unlatch the door and you could come in. He kept that up right into the '40s when he got an assistant cashier."

The bank, Farmers and Merchants State Bank, moved across the street into a new building in 1967 and now has a branch in Huntertown.

So life goes on in LaOtto.

Gregg and Sue Follis, a Fort Wayne couple who bought the Sit 'N' Bull nine years ago, have moved their family to LaOtto. Terry Cartwright says new homes are being built "in a five- to 10-mile radius of town" by people wanting out of the city. Thurlo and Betty Gaff say there are two new babies on their street.

"Everyone thought the town of LaOtto was going to die," Gregg Follis says. "No way. It's a nice town, a real nice community."

Woman full of energy after losing 300 pounds

By ALEX VAGELATOS

That food is slowly digested before it enters the stomach through the constricted passage. The person quickly feels full.

"The body chooses its ideal weight and then the metabolism adjusts to keep it there. There's not much I can do about it," said Schryver, 37. She decided to have the procedure after years of dieting had had little effect.

In all, she has lost more than 300 pounds and now weighs about 190 pounds. She is not sure how low her weight will go.

Gastroplasty patients, Schryver said, can eat enough only to fill the small pouch that is created above the stomach.

Weight Watchers, everything. I was always on a diet, but nothing worked."

The procedure has worked almost too well, Schryver and her husband, Henry, agreed. Schryver is so full of new-found energy, he sometimes finds it difficult to keep up.

She is studying at Indiana Vocational Technical School to be a respiratory therapist, with an 18-hour class load. She does 10 to 12 hours of volunteer work a week with her church, Third Street Church of God. She handles three early-morning routes for The Journal-Gazette, 197 daily and 332 Sunday newspapers. And she helps care for three teen-age sons and an 18-month old grandson.

After a lifetime of impaired mobility because of her weight, Schryver admits she may be making up for lost time.

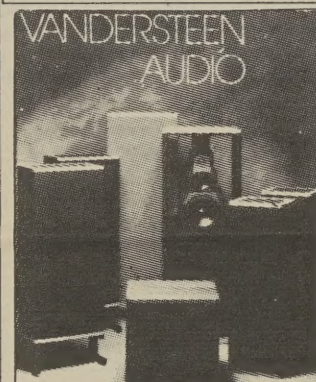

"I sometimes worry about her. I wish she would slow down a little," Henry Schryver said.

Henry Schryver also had to deal with changes in the couple's relationship.

"I was worried about her surgery, of course, but I was also supportive of her. Afterwards, there are things to adjust to, both physically and emotionally. You sometimes wonder if that's the same person you married," he said.

Both joined the Northeast Indiana Gastroplasty Support Group, which meets at 7 p.m. the third Thursday of each month at Denny's Restaurant, 4916 Lima Road. It is for people who have had the operation or are considering it, and their partners. An average of 15 people attend.

One common, though ironic, occurrence is for the spouse to gain weight while the person who has the band loses weight. That's because the person with the band eats small amounts of food, and slowly. Their dinner partner often eats the leftovers.

responsibility — some are assigned speeches, some critique them, some check grammar.

For each meeting, four of the members have a prepared five-to-seven-minute speech, and afterward, they are critiqued by the designated evaluator.

Also, a person called the "Topic Master" chooses a question, such as: "Will Vice President Dan Quayle hurt or help President Bush in the 1992 election?" The Topic Master points to a member and asks for a response. All must be prepared to answer.

The Toastmaster must stand immediately — without time for preparation — and deliver a one-minute response. The evaluator offers a critique.

"Every critique, every evaluation, is done with humor and love," Montgomery said. "There is no meanness. We're not there to hurt anyone — we're here to help everyone."

The biggest problem for beginners, he added, is word whiskers, which are speech stalls such as "ah, uh, OK, really, you know, like." Verbal whiskers cost the member a penny. The record is 37 "ahs" in seven minutes, Montgomery said.

The result for the local participants in Toastmasters — and the other hundreds of thousands around the world — is better thinking, better listening and better speaking, Montgomery said.

"It's the best education tool in the world," he added.

In addition to Toastmasters, Montgomery was inducted into the Bradley County (Tenn.) Sports Hall of Fame in 1985 for participation as a star softball pitcher and promoter in the 1940s. He organized the community's first merchant-sponsored softball team, which he led into the Tennessee state softball championship finals several times.

Later in 1985, he was inducted into the International Platform Association, a group for professional speakers.

Montgomery began his career as a teacher in Tennessee. Later, he sold encyclopedias door-to-door and worked at least one year as a professional singer.

These days, he offers a dance for the residents of the Fort Wayne State Developmental Center each month, and every year, he sponsors a country-and-western talent contest for senior citizens.

Remember the word alacrity (pronounced a-LACK-rih-tee)? It would describe him well: "Eager willingness or readiness often manifested by quick, lively action."

Part-time employee
Part-time retiree

Tired Of Being Retired?

Eleven years ago John retired from the insurance business. He wanted more out of retirement than "time on his hands" so he started working part-time for a friend. The part-time job became a full-time job, leaving him no time to enjoy golf, camping and other things he looked forward to as a retiree.

In 1984 John talked to Lincoln Bank. They asked him how many hours he wanted to work — and when. Now John works three days a week, leaving him a long, four day weekend to enjoy the things he likes to do. John is one of several retirees who are enhancing their retirement with part-time work at Lincoln Bank.

If you're tired of being retired and would like to work a few days a week, talk to Lincoln Bank. There are several part-time jobs like teller, file clerk, receptionist, phone operator, mail handler, courier to mention a few that may fit into your work plans.

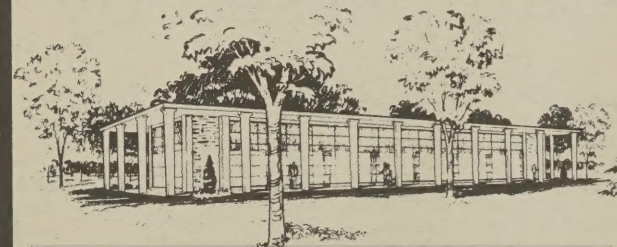

Stop by Lincoln National Bank's Human Resources Department at 116 E. Berry Street between 9 A.M. and 4 P.M., or call Lincoln's 24 hour Jobline® at 461-6318 for current information on available opportunities.

Echoes from Eel River

by Sally Green

From Orphelia Smith's newspaper clippings of Fort Wayne News Sentinel. The article was written by Joan Houser, a 9th grade student at Garrett High School. There was no date on the paper, but it was written years ago.

Delving into my family tree, I learned that Hometown was named for my great-grandfather Hunter, who was born in Cumberland, England on April 9, 1802. At the age of 26, he came to America and landed in Boston.

Four years later he returned to his native land, but he returned to America in 1833 with a party of Englishmen and located in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Two years later he married Mrs. Jane Buckingham and in 1837 he came to Perry Township in Allen County and began clearing a farm. Shortly afterwards, he established a hotel which was a regular stopping place for passengers and mail carried on the stagecoach over the old plank road from Fort Wayne to Sturgis, Michigan.

From this beginning, a small town soon sprang up and was named Hometown. He lived one half mile south of Hometown for some time and later built a home and reared a family of seven children in a town bearing his name.

Todd-Hunter was his original name but after coming to America he decided that the name was too long and legally had it changed to Hunter.

In going through Mrs. Smith's papers again, I found this item about the Hometown bank robbery.

Has a headache

Ben Warnock, cashier of the Hometown bank, returned to Hometown from Lima, Ohio late Saturday evening.

"I am feeling all right this morning but for a slight headache," he said.

"I can positively identify Townsend as the man who struck me in the head with his pistol when I told him there was no more money. I think Donovan and Mason are the other two men who came into the bank, but I don't think that Willis or McCann was with them.

"We found a bag of money in a Studebaker car at Lima Sunday that was the money from our bank. I am unable to say how much money we lost or how much in bonds, but we received $500 in cash. There is still probably $500 in cash missing and all of the bonds. The bonds will not amount to more than $20,000.

"I don't think they used any machine but the Studebaker machine in which the money was found. I think it was the same machine in which they were here. Five high powered automobiles - a Studebaker, a Buick, Cadillac, Hudson and Marmon - were confiscated by the police Sunday. The car was found in a garage near the home of the bandits.

This sheds a little more light on the bank robbery.

Pictured in the Fort Wayne News Sentinel was the Lutheran Hospital nursing school graduates.

The Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing will graduate 26 young women at commencement exercises Friday evening, May 15, 1942 at the Concordia College Concert Hall. Dr. Arnold Duemling will be the commencement speaker.

Rev. Erwin Kurth gave the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening, May 10, 1942.

Miss Gladys Jagger of Churubusco, Marguerite Kaler, South Whitley and Louise E. Miller, Columbia City were three of the graduates.

When I was talking to Mary Dafforn on the phone April 28, she said it was her birthday and a florist shop was delivering her a beautiful basket of flowers. They were from her grandchildren, Kim and David.

Having birthdays in May are Bertha Yoquelet, May 4; Grace Martin, May 8; Everett Lincoln, May 17; Lincoln Pratt, May 24; Hilda Bear Sauder, May 25; and Blanche Smith, May 30.

Alva Swanders and Don Parker celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on May 19. Glen and Phyllis Bender Ott celebrated their anniversary May 28 and Donna Cox and David Middleton celebrated theirs on May 29.

"He's not a division I prospect but he'll play somewhere," said Hoff. "He has an excellent work ethic."

Perlich also took home most of the hardware at the awards program held last Thursday. He was named the team's MVP, won the second year captain's award, free throw leader award and top rebounder and steals awards along with being named to the all-conference first team.

Also named to the NECC team was senior Rodney Younis. The 5'11" senior shot 75% from the free throw line and totaled 235 points for an average of 11.7.

"Younis is a real tough competitor and won the 'best defensive player' award," reported Hoff. "He always wanted to guard the other team's best player. Rodney is only 6 feet tall, but he played a lot bigger, giving us 32 minutes of defense. If he wasn't

"Seven of the top 10 are back and we have a couple of good kids from the B-team," said Hoff. "With that many back we have the potential to win 10-12 games. At the beginning of this year we were supposed to win only five and we won eight."

Hoff still guarded his optimism. "We have a lot of players with potential if they are willing to work during the off season. Individual players are made during the off season while a team is made during the season. You don't become a better team just because you're a year older."

Walker follows family example in volunteering

By ARLEEN ZUMBRUN
Feature Writer

A fellow church member describes Luana Walker's volunteer work at Green Center United Methodist Church as, "You name it. She is always there."

It isn't that she needs to find something to do with her time. She is a first grade teacher at Wolf Lake Elementary, has been for 36 years. Her 88-year-old mother, Virginia Owen, who is recovering from a stroke, lives with her.

She is team development chair for American Cancer Society Relay for Life in Noble County. She says that her nine years working "wherever needed" for Relay for Life is personally satisfying and rewarding.

However, most of her volunteer time goes to the church of her heart and life, the thriving country church where she has always attended, was baptized and married.

Many of the children and grandchildren of families who were faithful to the church since it was founded in 1906 are now part of the church family. "It is so neat to see the generations perpetuated," Walker says.

"There is such support here," she says. My hope is that anyone who comes will feel that support and the spirit of God that I do."

A history of the church prepared for the new fellowship hall and sanctuary renovation dedication in October 2005, tells of a church that grew from neighborhood determination and hard work. Services were held at Green Center School. A tent meeting brought in converts. Farmers dug the basement with teams of horses. Working for the church is a core value in this congregation.

Walker says she is following her family's example in volunteering. Her mother always took her two weeks vacation to teach Bible school. Her father taught a Sunday school class.

She remembers her first formal volunteer position as Sunday school secretary when she was 12 years old. She put up the attendance figures and recorded them in a master book. Two adult Sunday school classes were conducted in the sanctuary at the time and she says, "I benefited from hearing two lessons."

She teaches an adult Sunday school class. She specializes in stuffing fleece animals or chair pads made at workdays, bakes pies and cookies for funeral dinners or occasionally for Chain O' Lakes Youth camp services. She is chorister.

Pastor Nancy Fergusson says, "Luana does so many things behind the scenes that get no public attention. She makes sure things get done properly and on time."

In 1983 Walker was asked to be church treasurer. She was assured it was an easy job. During her first month on the job, record-setting blizzards caused cancelled church services. "The bills came in to be paid, but no money came in. Walker said. "I decided I didn't like that job at all." But she still has it.

"I consider it a calling when I am asked to do something for the church," Walker says. "If I hesitate or think I don't have the time or talent, I stop and realize that God needs my strength to do what needs doing."

FOOTPRINTS

One night a man had a dream. He dreamed he was walking along the beach with the Lord. Across the sky flashed scenes from his life. For each scene, he noticed two sets of footprints in the sand: one belonging to him, and the other to the Lord.

When the last scene of his life flashed before him, he looked back at the footprints in the sand. He noticed that many times along the path of his life there was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that it happened at the very lowest and saddest times in his life.

This really bothered him and he questioned the Lord about it. "Lord, you said that once I decided to follow you, you'd walk with me all the way. But I have noticed that during the most troublesome times in my life, there is only one set of footprints. I don't understand why when I needed you most you would leave me.

The Lord replied, "My son, My precious child. I love you and would never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering, when you see only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you."

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want:
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Hello Lucy, (Wrote her 8/26/04)

Have been wondering if you folks had gone to warmer places this winter.

My son in law said he's been told this is the coldest winter in Florida in 18 years.

I've found a picture post card with my cards I had forgotten about. It shows the house ^{where} ~~that~~ Aunt Allie lived in LaOtto. A man stands on the front steps holding a violin.

The card is addressed to Mrs Binnie Folley. The card is from Will Miller to his niece. Do you know how the Millers are related to the Follies. My dad often mentioned the name.

We must get together
when the weather breaks.

I will be getting to Auburn also in the spring.

Have you been well?

There has been so much sickness in this area. Some schools were closed for a few days.

I've been well but some Paula Troyer Lee, 48, died at 4:00 a. m. Wednesday, December 8, 2004, at her home in Swan Township.

Ms. Lee was born in Garrett on July 4, 1956, a daughter of Arthur L. and Pauline E. (Keller) Troyer. She spent her formative years on the family farm in Swan Township, graduated from East Noble High School in 1974, and spent all of her life in the LaOtto-area.

A floral design school graduate, her career as a floral designer spanned a period of 25 years. She was recognized as a trained designer for FTD and Teleflora, and had done design work for Walter Eckles', Baker's Flowers, the Sprinkling Can, the Flower Nook, Chloe's Florists, Floral Creations by Diana, and Armstrong's Flowers. For the past few years she had been employed at the Perry Hill Elementary School, north of Fort Wayne.

Comfort

Oh, deem not they are blest alone
Whose lives
a peaceful tenor keep;
The Power who pities man,
has shown
A blessing for the eyes that weep.

The light of smiles
shall fill again
The lids
that overflow with tears;
And weary hours
of woe and pain
Are promises of happier years.

Remembrance

The Lord is my shepherd:
I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staff
they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies
thou anointest my head with oil:
my cup runneth over:

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Crance named U.S. National Award winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Kayla Crance of LaOtto, has been named a United States National Award winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Kayla Crance

Crance, who attends Churubusco Middle School, was nominated for this national award by Melinda Hopkins, teacher at the school. As a result, Crance will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally. She is the daughter of Todd and Jeri Crance from LaOtto. In. The grandparents are L. E. & Mary Anna Leitch of LaOtto and Wayne and Joan Crance of Churubusco.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

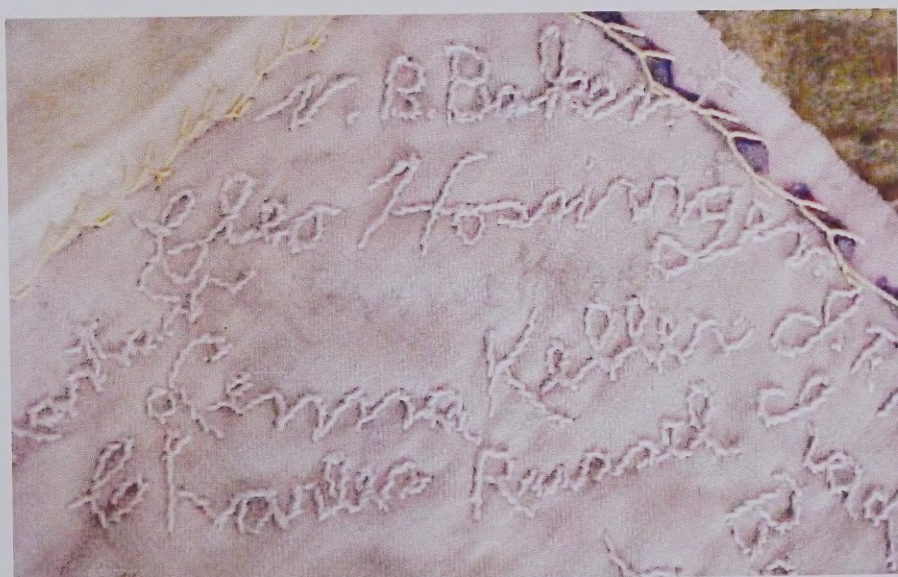

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set fourth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude, and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Hi Lucy,

I'll see what I can find - I won't be able to get to Doylestown for awhile though.

Davis' History of Bucks County is online if you need to look at it.

<http://www.rootsweb.com/~usgenweb/pa/bucksp/davistoc.htm>

Is your Daniel Keller related at all to Peter Keller who married Eleanor Manchester in Richland Co? I really don't know much about the Keller line.

I've also seen a book "Kellers of Hamilton Township" that I believe includes some early Keller information. I'll check that out again.

Update:

I've just seen information from the 1880 Census for Green Township, Noble County IN, listing the household of Washington and Ann Keller and their daughter Ida. The census says he was born in PA, his father in PA and his mother in England. (By the way, this is contrary to his obituary, that said he was born in Stark Co., OH.)

I'm afraid the Daniel Keller and Hannah Ann Weaver whose pedigree we've seen online are NOT the ancestors of our Keller family in Green Township. Hannah Ann Weaver was born in Pennsylvania. Our g-g-g-grandmother was born in England.

Lucy,

I tried to send this out but it said that Lrhanlon@aol.com was not a member of aol and would not let me send it. you might want to try.

Hello,

I think you have been in contact with Lucy Green on the Secrist family. Lucy is out of town this week end and asked me to contact you about the Secrist family. We are looking for any info you are willing to share on this family. Anna Secrist married George Washington Keller in Stark Co., OH. We also found Anna Secrist Keller obit in the Albion, IN newspaper and said her father was William SECREST.

Lucy and I are going to Ohio the week of June 23 and would like any info on this family.

Do you live in Stark Co., OH? We are from around Ft. Wayne, IN.

Can you email us with this info?

Thanks for any help you can give us.

James Keller, aged 50, a Troy township farmer, preparatory to butchering, blew a gun Thursday and the bullet went through his mouth and out the top of his head. Funeral today.

Later in the same issue ...

ONTARIO -- NOV. 19 -- On Thursday morning, Mr. James Keller, southwest of town, on the farm known as the Andrews farm, while preparing to butcher, took his gun to see if it was loaded, and raising the hammer and placing the mussel to his mouth blew into the gun, whereupon it was discharged, killing him instantly.

Funeral on Saturday at the Lexington Cemetery. The deceased leaves a wife and six children to mourn their

Hi Lucy. I'm so glad that you emailed this information. Unfortunately, I just recently moved and have not had a minute to work on my genealogy. I'll try to get out my book on the Keller line and look up my sources. I remember a lady that sent me quite a bit of Keller information and it seemed like she had been doing it for many years. I'll try to find her address. I can't believe that you live in Ft. Wayne. That sounds like a the place to be if you do genealogy. I have an aunt and uncle that are in the Keller line that live in Warsaw, Indiana, which isn't too far from you.

I'll try to look the info up this week and email back.

Sincerely, Karen Luman

 Subject: Our Keller Clan

Hi Karen,

I had an e-mail from Lei Keller Gunthrop and she told me of your web site on ancestry .com.

Interesting that no one knew about my g.g.grandfather, George Washington Keller also a son of Daniel and Hannah Weaver Keller. GW was born in Pa. on May 17, 1826. We also feel there may have been a couple others who did not live on the journey to Ohio.

I have been to Stark Co. on several occasions and have info on some of the other children.

Which line is yours?

Hope we can pool our info. and help each other. I can mail some charts to you if you like.

I live in Ft. Wayne, In.....where are you ? If you would like me to forward charts send me your address okay?

Happy Hunting,
 Lucy Keller Green

Hi Lucy!

Glad to hear from you. I have been researching descendants of John Jacob Dreibelbis (Treibelbis), who immigrated to Pennsylvania in 1732. I am descended from his son, Abraham B. Dreibelbis. My line is John Jacob - Abraham B. - Daniel R. - Susannah K. - Sarah Weidenhammer - Katherine Sheets - Elizabeth Faust - Katherine Knauss - Nancy Tackett - Victoria Mansfield (me).

In following Peter R.'s line (he's brother to my Daniel R.), I discovered a wealth of information at the Noble County, Indiana USGenWeb site <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~innoble/>>. Peter's granddaughter, Sarah E. Dreibelbis, married Washington Keller in Noble County on 6 Dec 1894. This information came from the Noble County Marriage Index posted on that site. It gave Washington's birth date as 17 May 1826, and his parents names, Daniel Keller and Hannah Weaver. —

I beleive Sarah was a second marriage for Washington; he first married Anna Secrist on 4 Jul 1848 in Stark County, OH. Anna died 12 Mar 1894 in Noble County, IN. This information and Washington's death date, 8 Nov 1908, and the fact that he is buried at Rehoboth Cemetery, Albion, Noble County, Indiana, was given to me by H. Stanley <>.

I just checked the Noble County site; here is Washington Keller's obit from that site:

Keller George Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keller, was born in Stark County, Ohio May 17, 1826; departed this life in Jefferson Twp, Noble County, Ind. Nov. 8, 1908, aged 82 years, 5 months and 21 days. He was married to Anna Secrist July 4, 1847. To this union were born 7 children, Mesdames Almira Rensch, Francis Chamblin, Almeda Engle and Ida Gardner, and John, Calvin, Franklin and Eugene Keller. His wife and one son, John Calvin, preceded him in death. He married Sarah Baker Dec. 6, 1894. She survives. Obsequies were held in Rehoboth Church. Burial, Rehoboth Cemetery. > 11-18-1908

Here's Anna Secrist and Washington Keller's tombstone info:

Keller Anna (w/o Washington) Feb 19, 1829-Mar 12, 1894 ~Re 3-6 [this is Reheboth Cemetery]
Keller Washington May 17, 1826-Nov 8, 1908 ~Re 3-6

I haven't found anything further on Daniel and Hannah (Weaver) Keller.

Warm Regards,
Vicki

Was sent your info on Daniel Keller /Hannah Weaver parents of George Washington Keller. Washington was born in Pa. as far as I have ever heard. Was your info. from marriage book by Clara Whan ?

G.W. was my 4th Gr. Grandfather .
How are you connected to this line? It is always nice to be in contact with any family member.
Do you have any idea where Daniel 1 and Hannah Keller are buried???
Have been hunting for a LONG time.

THE KELLER FAMILIES

In seeking genealogical information on one Keller family connected with relatives of my wife (Margaret Florence (Poe) McCarley) I have information on two other branches of Kellers. I believe all of them were originally from Switzerland and came to America by way of Germany or France as Switzerland has no sea coast.

The following index shows what Kellers is included with this report or is available at certain Libraries.

Kellers of Auglaize Co. and Allen Co., Ohio .

This goes as new material collected by me and goes to all the Libraries that I am giving anything to. This includes Logan Co. Library, Ohio Genealogical Library at Mansfield, and Auglaize County Library, plus Ohio State Public Library at the State House Office Building, and the Ft. Wayne Public Library.

The Jacob Keller part has already been given to Logan Co. Library and Mansfield O.G.S. They can combine it with Kellers of Auglaize if they desire. The other libraries mentioned above will get it from me under cover.

Another Keller Family (George and Barbara Keller) from Switzerland is combined with the George Abel (1754) family as the two are inter-related and is entitled the Abel-Keller Family. It is under its own separate cover and covers from Switzerland (Keller) and Abel (1754) to include down to my own grand-children and near relatives of my wife, to those who were also of the Poe Line and particularly one new name introduced because of Abel-Keller - Plummer line. There are several Plummers included in this report. All libraries that are above mentioned will receive a copy of the Abel-Keller Family plus the other above named libraries that are immediately concerned. This last group - the Abel-Keller line is centered in Logan Co. Ohio.

KELLERS OF AUGLAIZE CO AND ALLEN CO., OHIO

IN MY ATTEMPT to research for the Kellers that settled in and around Logan Co, especially around Bellefontaine and Huntville, Ohio, I have found other names and families that may or may not be related.

In this search we found that a George Keller and his wife Barbara came from Basil Switzerland to Botourt Va. and some of the family connections came to Logan Co by way of Clark Co. and Champaign Co. That family connection I have in my Abel- Keller Genealogy that is brought down through the Abel family and Poe family (My wife's maiden name) down to the youngest of the present day.

Another group that are listed as Jacob Keller family came from Switzerland and eventually to West Mansfield which is on the Eastern edge of Logan Co. I found an outline of that family by a Prof. Skimore and added to it what I found in Logan Co. Birth, Marriage and death records and a visit to two cemeteries at West Mansfield and incorporated them into my Jacob Keller Genealogy.

In my early search for the Keller family connection we went to Auglaize Co. Courthouse and Library records to partially organize the Joseph Keller descendancy in Auglaize and Allen Co. Both were one county in early days as was Clark Co. and Champaign Co. referred to above. It was not intention to do further research on the Joseph line after we found they were not immediately related but will give what I have found. It may help somebody day. There is some indication that Jacob Keller above may be the father of Joseph Keller. I believe all the Keller' connection in America are originally from Switzerland. Some came by way of France and some by way of Germany to America as Switzerland has no sea coast.

This Joseph Keller and his wife seems to have had eight children but I have only found four of their names. They were first in Montgomery Co., Ohio where part of the family were born.

Joseph Keller Married Marie Zwier from France.

The family that I have found are: (not in order)

1. John Keller born in Miamisburg, Montgomery Co., Ohio 6-24-1830
2. Mary Ann Keller Married Bauerle Conrad Henry 2-24-1852
3. William Keller born 1833 died 6-24-1916 See his family
4. H.S. Keller Born 1806 and eventually went to Nebraska (see family)

John Keller of which I have the most information came to Auglaize Co. with his parents settling around Wapokeneta. His father died in 1847. I have no date for his mother. From the record of John I find that Joseph came to America at the age of 28. He moved from Miamisburg, (Montgomery co.) in 1830 to Auglaize Co.

John moved from Wapakoneta to St. Marys, Ohio in 1849. He married Rebecca Armstrong October 1855 and they had three children: (1) Charles, (2) Harry A., (3) Maude. John was a Clerk of Auglaize Co. at one time and worked for a railroad at one time. Rebecca Armstrong's parental background seems to be by 1850 Census: John Armstrong born 1810, Harriet born 1825, John born 1845, Rebecca Armstrong born 1812.

There was a Christian Vosler who married Catherine Keller in 1862. She was daughter of John and Margaret (Leatherman) Keller. Margaret was a native of France and born in 1841. Her brothers and sisters were Annie, Christian, John, Mary, Susan, Wm. Charles, Henry, and Caroline.

I have ~~xxx~~ little on their family except that John, the father of Margaret was John Keller born in France. One sister of Margaret was Mary born 1832 and Married Conrad Henry 2-24-1852 and her brother William Married Caroline Ruck 9-9-1856.

The census of Auglaize Co in 1850 gives some John Keller born in Germany in 1800. His family was -wife- Margaret born 1804, Susana 1836, Louisa born 1838, Catherine born 1842, John born 1843, George born 1845. They lived in Duchouquet Twp. near Wapakoneta In same listing was other names, perhaps of same family: Mary Keller born 1832, Elizabeth born 1841, Henry born 1842.

In some connection was the mother of Samuel Scott who was Elizabeth Keller from Va. that died in 1822.

FEDERAL CENSUS OF ALLEN CO, OHIO - 1850 Kellers

They are related to the Kellers in Auglaize Co. because at one time both counties were one. The background of all the early Keller family seems to be from Pa. Some came from France, some from Germany, some from Switzerland. Perhaps all were once from Switzerland. By 1850 the keller name was in seven counties and Abraham Keller name was in Crawford, Clinton, Franklin, Medina, Auglaize, Pickway and Allen. ~~~~ Although Abraham was not listed in Auglaize, part of his family connection came from there. There was an Abraham Keller in both Bath and another Twp. John Keller in Lima took the census in 1850.

Jacob Keller Family

This Jacob Keller came from Switzerland. and came to Logan Co. Ohio, settling around West Mansfield, Ohio
I by necessity got these people while trying to get information on the Joseph Keller family that came from France and came also to Logan Co., Ohio, settling mainly around Bellefontaine, Ohio.
I visited Logan Co. Courthouse, Library, and Cemeteries around West Mansfield in order to separate the Jacob family from the Joseph Keller families also found in the same courthouse but in cemeteries in and near Bellefontaine, Ohio and Huntsville Ohio.

The Joseph Keller family will eventually be given under separate cover .

THE JACOB KELLER FAMILY

During my research of the Joseph Keller family I found much on the Jacob Keller family. They had many similarities and many differences. The Jacob Keller family came from Switzerland and came to America and eventually to Logan Co. The Joseph Keller family came from France came to America and eventually to Logan Co., Ohio. The Jacob Keller family settled mainly West Mansfield Ohio which is in Logan Co. and east of Bellefontaine and in Perry and the Adjoining Co. West Mansfield is in two counties. The Joseph Keller settled in and around Bellefontaine, Ohio in two or three counties as will be found in a separate paper. The Jacob family are buried mainly in Greenlawn Cemetery, Perry Twp. and in Hathaway Cemetery of West Mansfield in Bokescreek Twp. The Joseph Family are in three Cemeteries around Bellefontaine, The exception being that Joseph Keller and one of his sons settled in Auglaize Co. around Wapakoneta, Ohio.

I have personally visited the above named cemeteries, some live Kellers of both families and checked the Logan Co. Courthouse and Library. I have compared my findings with a paper written by Prof. Skidmore. Where I found differences between what he had and what I found I used my own data. Otherwise I have added many dates, marriages, etc. to what was in his paper. My research was mainly to separate Jacob data from Joseph data and until I visited the Cemeteries around the ~~two~~ two different locations could I separate them. My wife's mother's mother was a Keller of the Joseph line.

Sometime about the middle of the 18th century, possibly about 1760 the ancestor of the Logan Co. Jacob Keller line moved from Switzerland into the adjacent county of Germany of Wertenberg.

Records still extant show that from that county in Germany in 1799 one named Jacob Keller and wife, Barbara and a son, Frederic aged 5 years (and others later mentioned) set sail for America and landed at the New York Harbor.

From there they soon found their way to the western part of Pa (Pittsburg) then into Columbiana Co., Ohio for here a son, John, made his early home. A daughter Fanny married a Mr. Fryfogie and they resided in northern Ohio. Another daughter, Barbary C. married Simon Bushong and they resided near Williamstown in Hancock Co. In Columbiana Co. the eldest son met and married Rachael Skidmore in 1815. The Greenlawn Cemetery, Logan Co. has many Skidmores.

Her father and mother in 1804 moved from Virginia to this Columbiana Co. and in 1816 this William Skidmore and his wife, and Frederic Keller and his wife, moved and settled in Logan Co. Near West Mansfield, Ohio

This Frederic Keller was the oldest son of the emigrants, Jacob and Barbara Keller and Rachael was the oldest daughter of Wm. Skidmore and his wife Mary. Frederic was born 10-22-1799. and died 7-22-1836.

This Wm. Skidmore, who was born in Bedford Co., Va, on May 9th, 1778 served in the war of 1812. Frederic Keller, his son-in-law, also served in this war.

Dear Pauline,

Thanks for talking with me Sunday evening. As you can guess, I'm excited about learning more of the Keller family. Are Jacob Keller, born 1813 in Ohio and John Calvin Keller, born 1818, Richland County, OH, brothers? No

I'm enclosing copies of my worksheets on Amy Treesh Keller and Jacob Keller as well as some of the male descendants. Also, there is a copy of the 1900 Treesh Reunion with Keller names underlined and a copy of the 1910 Keller Reunion. Do some of those Keller names fit into your family?

Ruth Keller, daughter of Frank O. in a letter to my parents in Dec 1988, stated she had a cousin, Helen Strater, living in Kendallville.

I look forward to learning more about the Kellers. Thank You!

The Treesh Reunion.

Thursday, June 7, 1900, the Treesh family reunion was held at the residence of William Treesh of Richland township. Although the day was somewhat unfavorable, about 200 gathered and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. This was the first family reunion and was attended by a number of the family from three states, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. The exercises consisted of songs, devotional and speeches. Revs. Gaff, Yager and Meese were called on and gave very appropriate addresses. The fact was developed that the Treesh family were good singers. After the first exercises were over there was a bountiful dinner spread on the table to which all did justice. After dinner all registered their names, all members of the Treesh family first, the neighbors following them on the register.

SIXTY YEARS IN ONE PULPIT

Grover Cleveland Was President When Rev. Ezra Keller Began Ministry in Lutheran Church at Hillsboro, Ill., As Young Man Just Out of College — Final Sermon Today

By Dickson Terry

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

HILLSBORO, Ill., May 28.

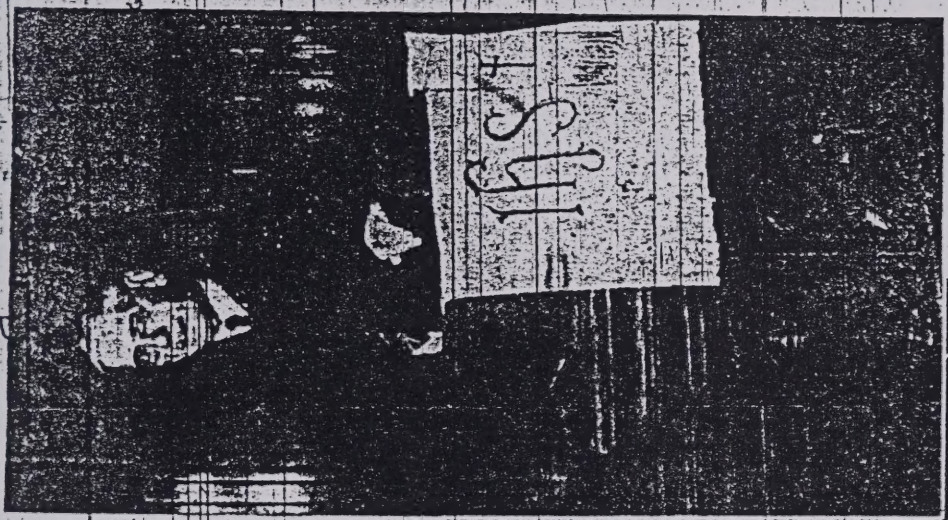

THE END of the main street of this pleasant little town of 4500 people and several times as many big maple shade trees, sits the Montgomery county courthouse. Built of gray brick with many a fancy turret and cupola, it reflects a definite architectural period through which this country struggled. It reflects also something of the personality of Hillsboro.

Many towns have torn such courthouses down to make way for new ones which look alike. The people of Hillsboro have the good sense to recognize their courthouse as a place, a link with the past, and a symbol of the transient quality of life and happiness.

A sort of square surrounds the courthouse and rally-cornered from it is St. Paul's Lutheran Church. You can hardly see it for the maple trees which were planted when the church was young, and some of which are now as tall as the steeple itself. They cast a cool shade over the church which, although it looks like many a church in many a small town, is also an institution in Hillsboro. There are a lot of other churches in town, but even to people of other denominations St. Paul's Lutheran has a special sort of meaning.

Next to the church is the parsonage, a big brick house, with a porch which runs clear across the front. But, thanks to the maple trees, the lawn and porch are cool and shady, and the front door is always open in summer, unlooked in winter. The parlor is a parlor in every sense of the word. There is an old-fashioned mantle at a corner fireplace with fancy pillars and green tile. There is an upright piano, and six straight chairs. Two of the chairs are discarded altar chairs. The woman who presided over this parlor for many years was a woman of that the minister. She had the should fare no better than the poorest member of the congregation. The other four chairs in the room are mahogany, but in different places.

There was a rift in the church when the young minister took on his job. He won't talk about it, and he won't let us keep his picture or cut on file here. I've yet to hear him repeat a sermon. reading, studying and working on sermons. His hand went out and touched the antique typewriter. "For a good many years," he said, "I pounded them out on this old machine. But in recent years I haven't written my sermons out in full. I just make an outline in longhand, and then preach from notes."

THE newspapers used to ask him to let them reprint some of his best sermons. But he never would. "I would never and humble the man is," said Harold Blizard, reporter on the Montgomery News, "for years he wouldn't even let us keep his picture or cut on file here. I'm afraid we would use it too freely."

Rev. Keller is in constant demand for weddings and funerals.

Postcard Modern Coffee Break

By Stan Delaplante

SAN FRANCISCO. THE morning "coffee break" is a rather modern invention. I do not remember the order of yesterday's being herded by kindly management from his toll to the 10:30 a.m. coffee counter.

Almost everybody is writing books about obscure subjects these days. I am surprised nobody has done anything about the "coffee break."

The first place I ran into the "coffee break," I was carrying on an important part of America's seagoing commerce. I was shining brass at the time with a little guy named Ramirez from Acapulco, Mexico.

He was telling me of the hazards of life in the coffee ships. Particularly of the unsympathetic attitude of Canal Zone medics.

"And the doctor say to me: 'Ramirez, you crazy. You drink to red lead your stomach—by golly.' So now I drink guano. I go never go back that quick. I go good quack in Frisco. Now we go get coffee."

"Want the Captain be made?" I said.

"The Old Man? He don't care. He drink coffee. All sailors drink coffee."

I found this was a seagoing institution. Coffee at 10. Coffee at 3:30. Coffee in all the mid-watch, night and day.

How this fine custom worked its way ashore, I do not know. It is in full bloom now.

If you are not getting a morning coffee break, you are an idiot. In some industries they ring a buzzer. Just like changing classes in school.

THE FIGURES SHOW 92 per cent of office workers now get coffee break.

The laziest of our industrial world are the retail stores. Re-

On the West Side Highway Monday (about 3 a.m.) smashed into a stanchion near 96th and burst into flames. A passing hero stopped and put out the blaze with a little extinguisher. When photos wanted to reward him with his picture in the papers, he called out: "Wait! Please, no pictures. But you helped save a man from burning alive," he was told. . . . "G'by," he said, speeding away. (One Of The Mob.)

Woman's Work

By Christopher Billopp

POOR woman! Her work is never ending. No 40-hour week for her. As for holidays, they find the whole family at home which makes an extra burden.

When home-theater makes a man a man, he buys the food. Who makes the bed and vacuums the hopper from top to bottom? Who is called when a button is off or a hole is found in a sock? Who has to make deserts? Who puts up sandwiches and other dainties for lunch?

Who writes the "Thank you" letters, buys clothes for the children, makes costumes for school parties, knits, woolen blankets for expected babies, remembers the birthdays of friends and relations, leaves flowers for the sick, and accepts it calmly when a man without timely warning brings a business acquaintance home to dinner?

WHO PRESIDES over a booth at the neighborhood fair, budgets, cuts and budgets, sets temperatures, decides whether to call the doctor, and gives alms to the patient? Compare this with the work of a man who has a secretary and an office boy at his beck and call. Picture him with nothing more to do than tell back in his chair and say, "Miss Jones, take a letter," or stand the office boy out for a cup of coffee.

SEE HIM step out to lunch with friends and stay away from home for a day or two. Who should he come home considering of being exhausted? Now what would happen if a woman were to do this?

Yes, women have never ended. See how a busy day off women have to live. A man to leave out is to be proud. A woman to leave out is to be ashamed. A day off women have to live. A man to leave out is to be proud. A woman to leave out is to be ashamed.

This will cause a good deal of furor in union negotiations. To the point where unions will have to negotiate coffee time downward.

even among people of other denominations. The people of Hillsboro don't look upon him any more as belonging to one denomination. "He just belongs to Hillsboro," one resident explained, "and I guess there have been a lot of young people who just wouldn't have felt married unless he performed the ceremony."

A year or so after he came to Hillsboro, the little community asked him to perform the ceremony. So he took on the added job. And they did it the hard way. By Sunday collections and donations.

THE Ladies Aid Society built the parsonage and in 1897, the Kellers moved in. There were no children. However, there were no children. However, there were no children. However, there were no children.

Judge Albert H. Chipman restored

an attack of asthma. He was taken suddenly ill at 9:30 o'clock Mon-

he joined a group of men from De-

GOV. TOWNSEND WILL HEAR PLEA OF CONVICTED SLAYER

SECTION WORKER BURIED IN AUBURN

Two Brothers of Man Found Dead along Railroad Right- of-Way near St. Joe Re- fuse to Claim the Body

An itinerant railroad section worker found dead last Wednesday along the Wabash Railroad right-of-way northwest of St. Joe, was buried late Monday afternoon in the Catholic cemetery at the north edge of Auburn.

The burial of Michael Stephen Foley, 49, followed simple graveside Catholic rites at 4.30 p.m. Monday conducted by the Rev. Leon Pisula of the St. Joseph's Catholic church at Garrett. He performed the service in the absence of the Rev. A. M. Quinlisk, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Auburn. Rev. Quinlisk is out of the city.

Attending the services with the priest were the cemetery sexton and attendants of the Gerig funeral home in Auburn. The body was not claimed by Foley's relatives. He is survived by two brothers, Joseph and Edward A. Foley, both of Woburn, Mass. The brothers refused to claim the body and reported that they had not seen their brother for seven and a half years since he returned from service in World War II. His father died in 1918 and his mother in 1945. The two brothers in Woburn are the only survivors of a family of 15.

Expenses of the burial were paid by the Veterans' Administration and the Catholic church donated the burial plot.

Foley's body was found along the railroad right-of-way shortly after he collapsed of a cerebral hemorrhage. He died on his birthday anniversary. Foley was discharged the day of his death after working for a day and a half on a section gang at Butler.

POLICE SEIZE NURSE WHO ABANDONED YOUNG SON

CHICAGO. — Seized by Englewood police, Miss Helen Suzin, 26, of Chicago, a practical nurse, has admitted she abandoned her 6-month-old son at the home of Charles Suski, 73, also of Chicago.

According to Policewoman Caroline Zeman, Miss Suzin said the baby's father is Suski's son, John, 34, who is separated from his wife, Adele, and their three children.

STRIP TEASER IS BLAMING WHOLE AFFAIR ON PIN POINT

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., (AP) — A red-haired strip teaser defended herself against charges of indecent exposure today by blaming the whole affair on a pin point.

"The pin point gouged my shoulder," said 26-year-old Dorothy Harlinger of Baltimore. "I couldn't quit in the middle of my act, so I just had to shift the bra."

Police said the woman, known professionally as Ginger Lee, engaged in some frenzied gyrations before ending her night club act with one breast exposed.

Ginger insisted she was wearing two bras—one on top of the other.

Nita S. Hinman, the trial magistrate, was unimpressed by Ginger's defense. She fined her $50 and sentenced her to 60 days in jail, but agreed to waive the jail sentence if Ginger got out of the county for good.

NEW QUEEN WORKING TOO HARD, BRITISH COMPLAIN

Reduction is being made in Number of Public Appearances Required of Elizabeth

LONDON, (AP) — Britain's second Queen Elizabeth is criticized by her subjects for only one thing.

"They're afraid she's working too hard."

"She's young, and she and Philip should go with the younger generation more," Mrs. Anthony Mullen, a housewife from Cheshire, said as she stood in front of Buckingham Palace to watch the changing of the guard. "We'd like it if they'd brighten up the place a bit."

In the House of Commons the members of Parliament are worried about the heavy burden 26-year-old Queen Elizabeth assumed so uncomplainingly.

Besides cutting down the number of public appearances required of the monarch, the M. P.'s have even brought up the possibility of moving the royal family from "the white elephant"—Buckingham Palace—which is antiquated and highly inconvenient. Such a move, however, is unlikely.

This fatherly concern shown the young Queen is just one example of the devotion of the subjects.

"She has the same devotion for duty her father had," explained one British businessman. "She has everything she needs to make her a beloved ruler."

Both men and women are frank to admit the appeal of a pretty, young queen.

CLINTON KELLER AND WIFE MARRIED FOR FIFTY YEARS

Couple to Observe Golden Wedding Sunday at Their Home Four and a Half Miles Southeast of Butler

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Keller, who reside four and a half miles southeast of Butler, will observe their golden wedding anniversary with an open house between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. on Sunday, July 20, at their home. All of the couple's friends are invited to join them on this occasion.

They will repeat their marriage vows at 3 p.m. with the Rev. Allen K. Trout, pastor of the St. Mark's Lutheran church in Auburn, officiating. Both Mr. Keller, age 71, and Mrs. Keller, 68, are enjoying good health and Mr. Keller works daily as a maintenance man at the Messenger Corp. in Auburn.

Clinton Keller and Miss Clara Miser were united in marriage on July 16, 1902, at Corunna. The couple were married by the Rev. J. J. Minnemier at the parsonage in Corunna.

They resided in Garrett after their marriage and their only child, Mrs. J. A. McBride, now of Butler, was born in Garrett. Mr. Keller was a blacksmith with the B. & O. railroad in Garrett. The couple have lived all of their lives in DeKalb county with the exception of about 11 years when they resided in the West and the South, during the years 1908 to 1919.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller lived about 14 years in Auburn, on Second street, and left Auburn in 1932. Then they took up residence near Butler where they continue to make their home.

The couple also has four grandchildren. 1st Lt. James A. McBride, Jr. who is serving as aide-camp with the 7th artillery in Germany; Eugene McBride, MM1/c, now home at Butler from Korea; Richard McBride, MM3/c, in Korea and Mrs. Patricia Kneip of Davenport, Ia.; and five great-grandchildren.

FORMER AUBURN RESIDENT IS DEAD AT AGE OF 78 YEARS

A former resident of Auburn, Virgil E. Latson, 78, of Kendallville, died at his home at 1:15 p.m. Monday after an illness of more than one year. Mr. Latson was the brother of James R. Latson of 317 West Eleventh street, Auburn.

Mr. Latson was born on Oct. 12, 1873, the son of the late Alonzo and Elvina Latson. He and Emma A. Treesh were married on Aug. 29, 1900.

RETIRED BUTLER AREA FARMER DIES AT 87 YEARS

A retired Butler area farmer, Clinton Earl Keller, 87, died at the DeKalb Memorial hospital in Auburn Thursday, one day after he was admitted. He lived in the Butler Hotel Rest Home for the past four years, and formerly lived with a daughter, Mrs. James McBride at Butler.

Mr. Keller was born Jan. 25, 1881, a son of the late John Keller and Jane Johnson Keller. He was married in 1903 to Clara B. Miser, who passed away in 1954.

The body is at the Dilgard & Cline funeral home in Auburn where final rites will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. The pastor of the Sixteen Zion Lutheran church north of Garrett will officiate. Burial will follow in the church cemetery. Mr. Keller was a member of that church. The Rev. David Lawson, pastor will officiate.

Surviving, in addition to the daughter, include four grand children and 12 great grand children. Two brothers and a sister are deceased.

COLLISIONS IN STATE RAISE TOLL TO 1,388

Two car-truck collisions Thursday and today raised Indiana's 1968 traffic fatality toll to at least 1,388 compared with 1,122 a year ago.

William H. Harris, 45, New Whiteland, was killed this morning when his car struck the rear of a truck which had stopped for a traffic signal at U.S. 31 and Shelby St. on the far south side of Indianapolis.

Gerald Brady, 57, Rockport, was killed Thursday when his car collided head-on with a truck on Indiana 66 west of Rockport in Spencer County, apparently when he dozed at the wheel.

With December in its sixth day, only eight traffic fatalities had occurred this month, a low rate for what normally is one of the deadliest months in the year for motorists.

HIGH-LOW REPORT

NEW YORK (UPI) — The lowest temperature reported today by the U.S. Weather Bureau, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 4 degrees below zero at Benndji, Mon. Thursday's high was 81 at McAllen, Tex.

the Chicago Crime Commission. Clark also denied a Tribune statement that he supported what the newspaper said was an effort by Walker to have himself appointed special prosecutor of a grand jury investigation of the Chicago violence.

"I never wanted Mr. Walker or anyone else to be a special prosecutor," Clark said. He said he had "never met Daniel Walker" but admired his reputation.

The full violence commission met in closed session today at Warrenton, Va. for a three-day discussion of a proposed interim progress report which would be submitted to President Johnson before he leaves office Jan. 29. The commission's final report is not due until next spring.

Clark's statement followed a similar comment by Cliff Sessions, public information officer for the Justice Department.

15,500 U. S. TROOPS TO TAKE PART IN WAR GAMES

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department announced today that 15,500 U.S. troops will fly to West Germany next month to take part in war games near Grafenwohr, only 30 miles from the Czech border.

The exercises, which will continue into February, were regarded as a reaction to the Soviet bloc invasion of Czechoslovakia. The Pentagon said 12,000 Army troops and 2,500 airmen would be involved.

The games will cost an estimated $20 million.

The Army units will be the two brigades of the mechanized 24th Infantry Division now stationed at Fort Riley, Kan.

Air Force combat squadrons, flying a total of about 100 F4 Phantom jets, will be drawn from Holloman AFB, N.M., and Mountain Home AFB, Idaho.

SLAIN AMBASSADOR IS GIVEN HIGHEST HONOR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Gordon Mein, the U.S. ambassador to Guatemala who was killed there Aug. 28 by terrorist machine gun fire, has been awarded the State Department's highest honor.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, presenting the award Thursday to the diplomat's widow, said it was in recognition of Mein's "dedication to the cause of friendship between the United States and Guatemala for which he gave his life."

Hi

I have recently fried my motherboard on my computer.
 I am working from a six month old back up disk. I have gotten alot more info but have not had time to get it from paper to computer.

I would like to see George's Obit if possible. I have been trying to figure how george fits in. I have never heard of him in my tree.
 I have added what I have on the Keller family on my computer right now.
 I am located in NW Ohio. In Montpelier Ohio.

Hopefully this helps.

Descendants of Daniel Keller

Generation No. 1

1. DANIEL¹ KELLER was born Abt. 1792 in Pennsylvania.
 He married HANNAH ANN WEAVER. She was born Abt. 1793
 in Pennsylvania.

Notes for DANIEL KELLER:

1850 census for Ohio says Daniel Keller was born in Maryland. Elizabeth Ann Keller Woods death certificate says her father, Daniel Keller was born in Pennsylvania.

Event: 1840 Residence Columbiana County, Ohio
 Event: 1860 Residence Richland County, Ohio

Daniel Keller was born in Maryland about 1792. The names of hisparents and the place in Maryland is not known at this time. Sometime during or prior to 1826
 he married Hannah Ann Weaver who, according to the 1850 census, was also born in Maryland. Daniel was listed on the tax records of Hanover Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania from 1825 through 1832 and that is believed to be wherethey were married. They had seven children. Typical of the taxrecords mentioned for Daniel were: Trade: Blacksmith $50.00 value; Property:
 1 dog and 1 cow $8.00 value; Tax Paid: $0.13. The 1840census listed Daniel and Hannah Ann Weaver Keller in ColumbianaCounty, Ohio. At this time I have no knowledge as to when or where they died. The preceding is based on information furnished by DavidFisher of

Hi Lucy! I can't believe that you live in Ft. Wayne! I live up in LaGrange (actually, I'm less than a mile from the intersection of State Road 3 (Lima Road) and US-20.) I am the daughter of Donald Steven Keller, who is the s/o Donald Dean Keller, s/o Sylvan Keller, s/o William C. Keller, s/o Daniel Allen Keller, s/o Daniel Sr!

I am very new to this genealogy stuff. I lost my Grandma Keller in June of this year and I think that prompted me to collect as much information as I can from the rest of the family before I lose anyone else.

It is so interesting that George Washington Keller isn't listed on a lot of the information available on the internet as a son of Daniel Sr. & Hannah Weaver. Another interesting thing that I found out today is that the 1850 Census for Ohio says that both Daniel Sr. and Hannah Weaver were born in Maryland, but Elizabeth Ann Keller Woods death certificate says that her mother and father were both born in Pennsylvania.

Most of the information that I have found has been gleaned from the Luman-Iles family tree on ancestry.com. I haven't had much time to double-check all of the information, but I have verified most of what is there for my grandpa's generation and their descendants. Some of the other information that I have on Daniel Sr. is that he was a blacksmith, lived in Columbiana County, Ohio in 1840, lived in Richland County, Ohio in 1860, and married Hannah Weaver around 1826 in Hanover Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania.

Do you have any idea who Daniel Sr's parents were and where they came from? I have found a Christopher Keller listed on a World Family Tree that lived in Bucks County, PA who had a son named Daniel, but I don't know how to go about connecting the two. The dates for both of their births are estimated and fall within the right years (Christopher b. est 1756-1792, m. est. 1779-1816, and d. abt. 1820 in Bucks County, PA - Daniel b. est. 1782-1819, d. est. 1794-1900). If this is the right Daniel, he would be one of 6 children, Christopher is the s/o Henry Keller (& Julie Ann ??) who is the s/o Christofol (& Anna Margareth).

My Grandpa has started to get interested in this project also. I figure that it's good for him to have something to help to keep him busy and to keep him from thinking about how much he misses Grandma. One of these days we are going to make a trip to the Fort Wayne Library to see what we can find. Maybe you can meet us there and show us the ropes!

I would love to see any information that you have on any of the Keller's! I just went out and bought the Family Tree Maker software and it really makes it easy to enter names and organize everything, and you can just keep adding and adding to your family tree. I would love to be able to follow the complete descendency of Daniel Sr. and Hannah down through the years!

If you'd like, I can send you a .pdf file of all of the information that I have. (That's another thing that software makes it easy to do! ;o)

Thanks for writing to me!

Hi Lei,

Great hearing from you.

I descend from Daniel and Hannah through their older son
George Washington, born May 17, 1826, Pa.

In Indiana, Noble Co. he was called Washington. He married Anna Secrist in Stark Co. July 4, 1847. Have proof for all the above.

His other siblings that I know of are: Elenor, James, William, Charlotte, Daniel, Mathias and Elisabeth Ann.

I feel sure there were others born in Pa. and have some new leads but have not been to the library for a few weeks.

Do you have any idea where Daniel Sr. and Hannah are buried???? They seem to have dropped off the face of the earth. Sure hope you have something on them.

I live in Ft, Wayne, In. Where are you?

Will send you some of my charts if you like. Would like to send via internet but I am really dumb trying to figure out how to use this darn thing.

Take care, happy hunting and hope to hear from you soon.

I've just recently started researching my grandfather's family, which started with Daniel Keller and Hannah Ann Weaver in Pennsylvania. I just thought I'd mention that I find it interesting that their son, Daniel Allen (b. 14 SEP 1830), also married a woman named Hannah Ann (Allen) in 1862 in Marlboro, Stark County, Ohio.

Feel free to contact me regarding our family!
